Bruno Clerk Robbed, Put In Freezer

Two young men used threats and physical force Monday to rob a San Bruno Neighborhood grocery store clerk of approximately $100.

Police said one man walked into the Rollingwood 7-11, shortly after 9 p.m. and told the female clerk to "open the cash register and everything will be fine."

There was no sign of any weapons, police said.

After opening the cash register the employe ran out into the parking lot. Police said she ran into an apparent accomplice, who brought her back into the store.

The two suspects then put the clerk in the refrigeration unit and left.

Both suspects were described as being between 19 and 22 and sporting Afro hairstyles. The first to come into the store had on a navy blue sweatshirt. The second suspect wore brown bell-bottom trousers and a tan jacket, police said.

CISCO ZAVALETA will replace his palomino horse "Pancho" with air-conditioned limousines on his proposed tri-county stage route between San Francisco International, Oakland and San Jose airports.

Familiar Parade Sight

Cisco Zavaleta and His Horse 'Poncho'

By FRANK LaPIERRE

In his lifetime John Raphael Zavaleta has met thousands of people.

He has been a parking lot attendant, World War II hero, radio and television personality, expert horseman, emcee, parking lot owner, realtor and even a frying pan demonstrator.

Zavaleta, commander of Sunset Post 400 of the American Legion, is a longtime resident of San Bruno who was born and raised in a Texas border town deep in the heart of the Rio Grande valley.

He moved to San Bruno, married a San Francisco girl, worked hard and now wants to operate a fleet of 25 Cadillacs between Oakland, San Francisco International and San Jose airports.

But unless you call Zavaleta by his "adopted" name no one will recognize him.

"Cisco" Zavaleta and his faithful palomino parade horse "Pancho" have been a familiar sight in every parade in the Bay Area for the past two decades.

There are many parents and their children who remember Cisco from performances at charity events and county fairs.

As the official greeter at San Francisco's Sinaloa Mexican restaurant in the North Beach area, Cisco met the great and the not-so greats.

He greeted them all with his famed "Hallo, I haven't seen you for a long deeestance!"

The horse Cisco rides in parades these days is not the original Pancho. But an observer would be hard-pressed to tell the difference.

Attired in his authentic Pancho Villa suit, with real cartridge belts draped over both shoulders, Cisco proudly prances around with palomino ponies that look exactly like his old friend Pancho, who is now grazing on the Southern California ranch of western actor Roy Rogers.

Visitors to the Rogers' ranch think Pancho is "Trigger."

But even the "Wonder Horse" has long ago departed for that Great Corral in the Sky.

Cisco hung up Pancho's saddlebags and took off his spurs as a full time profession in 1962.

Recently he confided a desire to get back into the television business.

How does he find time for all his enterprises?

"I wake up early," Cisco replies.

When he found out how difficult it was to get transportation to points round the Bay Area's three major airports, Cisco decided to corral a whole herd of horsepower and open his own stage line.

With the help of attorney Maurice Hamilton, Cisco applied to the State Public Utilities Commission (PUC) for a "stage route" in San Mateo, Santa Clara and Alameda counties under the name of "Tri-Terminal Limousine Service."

Cisco's intentions are to move along his proposed stage route in sleek air-conditioned cars taking airport patrons, such as airline crews, wherever they want to go "at a fair price."

"Those limousines sure beat the old stage coaches that served the same area," Cisco said.

Subs, Non-Striking Teachers Praised

The "unsung heroes" of the recent Daly City school strike were those teachers who stayed on the job and the substitute educators that filled in for the strikers.

This was the feeling expressed by Jefferson Elementary School District Superintendent Frank Greenwood Monday on the first day of "normal" school activities.

Teachers fired by the district after they went on strike were back in their classrooms and, for the time being, the business of teaching appeared to occupy their time.

Aside from an acknowledgement of their return and a hope "they will dedicate themselves to their prime responsibility—the education of the children," Greenwood had little to say about the 227 teachers that were back.

Greenwood disclaimed statements made by returning teachers that they had won a victory "as though (the strike) was some sort of ball game."

"They have gained nothing by striking," Greenwood said.

He said the community could be proud of those "loyal teachers who refused to take part" in the strike for providing the community's children with an education.

Some substitute teachers had received threats of reprisal if they continued to stay in classrooms, it was learned.

Greenwood said several "loyal teachers" had received calls of harassment as late as last Friday—after the strike had been settled.

Substitutes contacted refused to discuss the threats or details surrounding their actions during the strike.

However, one thing was made clear: non-striking teachers resented being accused of not being qualified to teach and that children were suffering because of this.

Most scoffed at the idea they were "second class citizens and teachers." Others were downright angered at the statements.

A June 6 Vote on Unifying

Voters in the Jefferson high school districts will be asked to decide again next June 6 on unification plans for the districts.

The election was authorized Thursday by the County Committee on School District Organization, but the board won't decide until November 4 on which plans to submit to the voters.

Voters in all three districts turned down unification proposals by large margins in 1966.

Law requires than an election be held June 6 in all areas of the county not now in a unified school district.

To be decided by the committee is whether the plans approved by the State Board of Education —total unification of all elementary districts within each of the three high school districts, or on plans approved by the county committee, which would create two unified districts in Jefferson.

Jefferson's two-way plan calls for one unified district of Pacifica and Laguna-Salada, with the other elementary districts comprising the second unified district.

Vandals-Free Schools Seen Through Improvement Plan

The day will come in San Bruno when school students — as well as the community at large — will feel so proud of their local schools, that no one would think of committing an act of vandalism.

Student will develop such a deep sense of responsibility for keeping up and improving "the quality of their immediate community environment" that they'll want to do all they can to make their schools look better.

Thus School Supt. Bill Jennings described the workings of the newest plan for improving local schools to the San Bruno Park School Board.

This project is called "Project Pride." Each school will be presented a Project Pride—San Bruno Flag, which may be flown from the flagpole if the school inspection team gives them at least a satisfactory rating.

The team will tentatively consist of two students, two teachers, one P-TA representative and the principal. Schools receiving a "needs improvement" rating will be given one week to improve — or face the eventual loss of their flag.

Schools maintaining an "outstanding" rating for four straight months will be given a special award.

"I haven't decided what yet," Jennings added. "Maybe a magic show — or free ice cream . . . Why not let the children decide what they want?"

A basic part of the entire project will be to let the students themselves decide how to improve their school, and what projects are needed. Special honors will be given for special projects designed and executed by the students.

Parts of the project have already been tried out, he reported. At Belle Air School, which has been painted and planted, mosaics made by students have been hanging outside for months and no one has harmed them. A school once beset by vandalism now seems almost vandal-free, he reported.

The school board appeared impressed — and assured Jennings of their backing.

One Unofficial

Two Beautification Panels in Millbrae

Millbrae is now the only Peninsula city with two beautification groups, one officially and one unofficially.

John Brucato, chairman of the Millbrae Beautification Commission was retired Monday by City Council edict, said his five-member group would continue working on its final project, the QFI market improvement, until the job is completed.

City councilmen meanwhile will be forming up a new Beautification Committee, with Councilman Harold Purpus as its chairman.

Brucato and his fellow commissioners, Earle Call, Valli Slate, Helen Habeeb, and Bob Osberg, held their final official session last night.

"We had a surprise visit from the mayor and City Council," says Brucato. "They told us what a wonderful job we had been doing, and all that blah, blah, blah.

"Then we each refused to proceed with the new committee, because we felt we could not serve as long as a councilman will act as chairman. We don't see how a Beautification Committee can be creative and get things done if they have to wait for council approval and leadership.

"We also think that anything as important as this should be decided by the voters, instead of by a summary action of the council.

"Then, we don't believe such a committee will be in the best interests of the city.

"I remember, when we inducted two years ago, the former mayor and the council promised us we 'would be the envy of all commissions because we could be free-wheeling and get things done.' "

Brucato said the QFI project includes proposed painting of the large market, and improvement of its parking lot.

"The owners have decided to make a model parking lot," he said. "We've gone so far with these people, we feel we might lose them if we just dropped out and waited for a committee to get started. We want them to do a good job."

Brucato agreed that the reason City Councilmen put an end to the commission, in favor of a committee, is probably at least partly a question of personalities.

"There may have been some politics," he said, "they were afraid of my intentions. I have been in civic service all my life, and never in politics."

Wartime Housing

Government Orders Razing Of Midway Village in D.C.

Midway Village in Daly City, built as temporary "war housing" in 1942, will be destroyed to make way for low income and senior citizen housing.

Consisting of 436 housing units now used mainly by Navy personnel stationed at Hunters Point shipyard, the village is located in the Bayshore section of the city.

The Federal Government has ordered the housing torn down before January 1, 1975.

San Mateo County Housing Authority wants to reconstruct the project in three phases.

The village will consist of 100 units for use by low income senior citizens and 300 units to be allocated to Navy personnel and their families on completion.

Both projects will be built under various federal housing programs using government funds available through the Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

County Housing Commissioners recently determined that the first phase of reconstruction should be for 100 units for low income senior citizens and 50 units for low income families.

No cost estimates for any phase of the building project has been made.

However, it is unlikely the project will be locally funded, a city spokesman said.

Bernard Albrecht, chairman of the San Mateo County Housing Authority, has informed Daly City officials that advantages to this type development is minimum land use requirements—thereby reducing the number of people that must be relocated—plus federal funding for the project.

Daly City has been asked by Albrecht to give the project local approval so plans and necessary funding arrangements can be made.

The City Council was expected to endorse a Housing Authority resolution which concerns itself with eliminating "substandard and other inadequate housing to prevent the spread of slums and blight . . ."

Although the area is not considered to be a slum, many officials—both naval and local government—say the housing is substandard to the needs of the families living there.

If Daly City officials agree to adopt the resolution, application will be amde by the Housing Authority for some $60,000 to proceed with planning of 150 units.

Pacifica Building Shows Gain

Construction valuation has increased by more than $1 million in Pacifica for the three month period from July through September over what it was for the same period last year.

Valuation placed on construction for the 1971 three month period was $1,867,251. For the same period in 1970 the valuation was $641,749.60

There were 56 permits issued this past September for a total valuation of $477,812. In September of 1970 there were 61 permits issued with a total value of $276,211.

Fees collected by the city for the July through September period this year were $16,952.78. The same period in 1970 netted $8,111.51.

Library Dedicated To Late James Cooper

James M. Cooper, late Jefferson Union High School District trustee, was honored at Terra Nova High last night when the school's library was dedicated to him.

The library is now the James M. Cooper Library.

Cooper, a long-time Pacifica resident and head of the transportation division of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce for 23 years, played a major part in the incorporation of the City of Pacifica and was active in the San Mateo County School Boards Association.

During his three terms on the school board, in which he twice served as president and four times as vice-president, he was instrumental in directing a district that grew from 2,000 to more than 8,000 in enrollment and which constructed five new schools.

Cooper was also a member of the California School Boards Association Delegate Assembly representing Marin County, San Francisco and San Mateo counties, was first chairman of the City of Pacifica's Park, Beach and Recreation Commission, past president of the Pacific Manor P-TA and Westmoor P-TA, served as the JUHSD Bond Election Chairman in 1957, and was an active member of the First Baptist Church of Pacifica.

Flames apparently started by children playing with matches Monday afternoon swept over between five and seven acres of grass near South San Francisco, firemen from the State Division of Forestry station in Belmont reported today.

S.F. Woman Kidnaped in Daly City

A San Francisco woman was kidnapped in broad daylight from the parking lot of a Daly City shopping center by two neatly dressed men on Monday and later released unharmed.

The woman was about to climb into her car at the Broadmoor Shopping Center about 4 p.m. when two men approached her.

One of the suspects was armed with a gun, the victim told police.

They forced her into the car and drove off toward San Francisco.

The pair released her in the Lake Merced area after robbing her of an undisclosed amount of money from her handbag and stealing the car.

A School Lunch Solution?

Salvation may be coming to San Bruno Park District's sorely beset lunch program from two directions, District Business Manager Sherill F. Houghton reported Monday night to the school board.

He reported on a meeting last week that he and other school officials held with James Hemphill, chief of the Bureau of Food Services.

One source is Sacramento. Hemphill assured them that a bill now in the Assembly would restore some $6 million to the free lunch program.

At present, he said, for every 45-cent meal given to a needy child, San Bruno receives 34 cents from Washington and two cents from Sacramento, thus resulting in a 9-cent cost to the local taxpayer for every free meal. The new Assembly bill would raise the two cents to 10 cents. This would cut the cost per free meal to one cent.

A House bill in Washington would go farther, Hemphill reported. Every child in public school would get a free meal. State Supt. Wilson Riles, as well as Hemphill supports this bill; Hemphill predicted it would become law within three

Trustee Leonard Sarkon, who had once tried to get San Bruno to close its cafeterias, burst out: "I would like to go on record against that. Soon, why not provide dinners and breakfasts? I wonder where the responsibility of parenthood lies . . . But perhaps I don't have enough information on the bill."

Supt. Bill Jennings offered to write for more information.

Houghton reported that he asked Hemphill's advise on many aspects of running cafeterias. Hemphill dismissed the proposal for San Bruno to go into the central kitchen idea, since most schools have individual kitchen facilities. He suggested possibly several districts, however, getting together for a central kitchen for "production items" such as sauces and hamburgers.

Supervisors Oppose New Districts

The proposed reapportionment plan which would carve up San Mateo County into parts of four State Senate districts was officially opposed Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

A resolution urging the State Legislature to leave the county in a single district, or create the least amount of fragmentation, as well as opposing the proposed plan, is to be prepared by County Manager M. D. Tarshes.

Supervisor Gerald Day brought up the reapportionment matter, stating the board should take a "strong stand against whittling up the county of San Mateo."

He noted that one of the districts in the plan, revealed last week, was "ridiculous." It would place Belmont, San Carlos and a portion of Redwood City in the same district as San Francisco.

"It would fractionalize the power and authority of the county in Sacramento," the supervisor stated.

Supervisor Robert St. Clair, a Democrat, said he would "have to agree 100 per cent with my Republican ally.

"The way we're being cut up," St. Clair stated, "it looks like we're a portion of real estate being used to work out the best interests of San Francisco and Santa Clara County."

The resolution proposal was offered by Supervisor Jean Fassler, with the board directing Tarshes and the district attorney office to coordinate in drafting the wording.

A Possible Breach of Trust Charge

A possible "breach of trust" against local apartment builders was charged at Monday's night's San Bruno Park school board meeting.

School trustees were visibly upset when Supt. Bill Jennings reported that the district has received children from both The Place and Sheltered Creek apartment developments.

He made the revelation as he was presenting a proposal for the board to spend $5000 for a district-wide survey, plus $1000 a year for updating it. The survey would show, for instance, how many children actually come from apartment houses, he told them.

"We've had them all the way to the first grade," he reported—although "in their ads, they said that children under 16 would not be accepted."

Jennings added that the Place is 83 per cent single bedroom or studio apartments which would rule children out. The remaining apartments are two bedrooms which, however, would provide for as many as two children apiece.

One trustee claimed that just counting the two-bedroom units in the three apartment complexes — Sheltered Creek, The Place and the still uncompleted Crystal Springs Terrace — there would be a potential of 820 children.

What seemed to concern Jennings and the trustees was the lack of any more school sites.

"We do have a buffer now," Jennings said. "We are still losing enrollment . . . It's the long-range outlook over the next five years that concerns me."

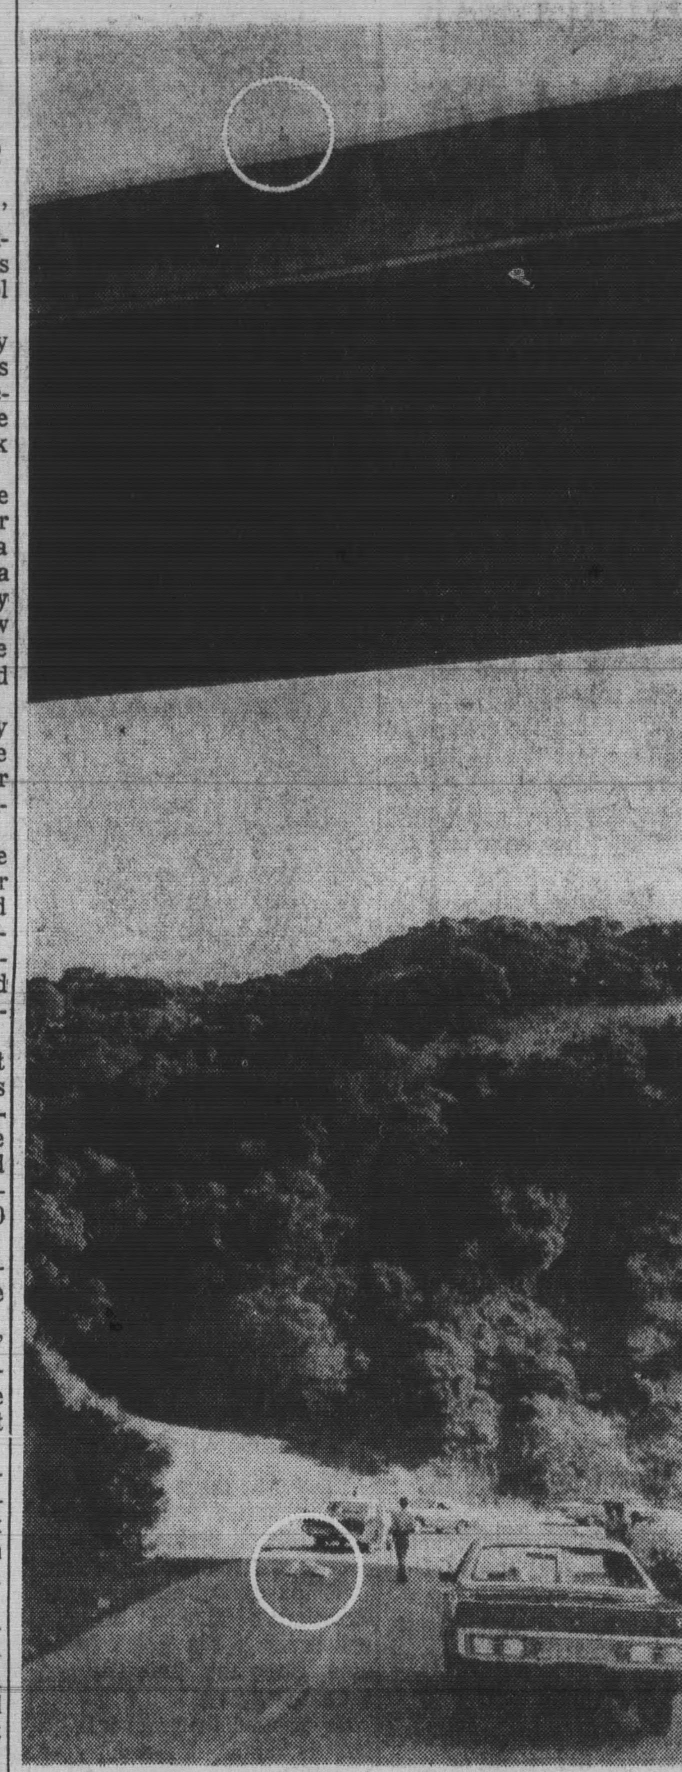
Long-time Trustee Dave Paterson asked what had happened when Sheltered Creek was first proposed, and the then Supt. George Lawry wanted a site there.

"Lawry told us that a stalemate had developed," he recalled. "If we took the site, then the developers claimed it would not be worth developing. What had happened?"

Jennings recalled that the district had a site reserved in the surplus Navy land but the federal archives center got it. It would have served The Place.

The superintendent, however, advised against seeking immediate action against the apartments, however, until he could meet with the city manager and investigate the whole problem further. He believed the developers were sincere in promising no children in the developments.

"Both were actually built for adult occupancy," he said. "They are not arranged for children at all . . . With the swimming pool out in the middle . . . They look like swinging places."



First Span Suicide

FIRST DORAN BRIDGE suicide was marked on Tuesday, when a Daly City man, Charles W. Tibbats Sr., 50, of 788 Skyline Blvd., leaped 400 feet to his death on Crystal Springs Road. The body was found by a passing motorist who called police at 9:15 a.m. It was the first suicide from the bridge spanning the canyon near Crystal Springs Lake and Dam. Tibbats was the secretary-treasurer of the San Francisco Roofers Union, coroner Paul Jensen said. (Post Photo)

Ban on Public Employe Strikes Upheld

The U.S. Supreme Court on Tuesday held constitutional laws denying public employes the right to strike. The action settles a previously unresolved dispute.

The court affirmed the judgment of a lower court last Spring upholding a law forbidding strikes by federal employes. The case was brought by the United Federation of Postal Clerks against the Federal Government.

The court acted in a brief order with no explanation. Only Justice William O. Douglas wanted to hear arguments in the case and decide it by written opinion.

The ruling affects all federal government employes and probably all state and municipal jobholders as well. Although many state courts have ruled public employe strikes illegal and forced strikers back to work, it was the first time the Supreme Court had ruled on the issue.

In a related case, the court today rejected a challenge to Kentucky laws prohibiting teachers from striking.

Nearly one out of every five workers in the American labor force is employed by government, according to Labor Department data. These include 2.6 million civilians at the federal level and another 10.6 million by state and local units. All federal employes and most state an local government workers have been barred from striking.

A three-judge panel of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia held in the Postal Clerks case on April 26 that while government workers have a "fundamental right" to organize and bargain collectively, that right did not extend to striking to achieve their labor objectives.

Because there "is no constitutional right to strike," the lower court reasoned, it is not "irrational, or arbitrary" for the government to prohibit strikes by its workers.

The challenged statute says no one who "participates" in a strike against the Federal Government/ or the District of Columbia may "accept or hold" a government job. Violators are subject to fines of up to $1,000, a year and a day in prison, or both.

The law formerly provided the same penalties for a government worker who "asserts the right to strike." That section was struck down as unconstitutional by the same federal district court in 1969 cases.

The issue of public employe strikes has become critical in recent years as more government workers have become unionized and have gone on strike. Whereas in 1956 only 915,000 public employes belonged to labor unions, well over 2 million do today; while there were only 15 strikes against various government entitles in 1958, there have been hundreds since.

S.S.F. Woman Files Suit

A South San Francisco woman has filed a $160,000 damage suit against the Southern Pacific Railway, charging that chemicals used to exterminate weeds along a spur line have resulted in damage to her home and shrubs.

Mrs. Pauline Heisel, 120 West Orange Avenue, charges in the suit filed on her behalf by San Bruno attorney Ronald D. Carter that sand and dust accumulating as a result of weed extermination and plant defoliation by the railway blows onto her property.

It also is contended that the chemicals used in the weed exterminating along the spur line paralleling Mrs. Heisel's property have drifted onto her plants, shrubs and trees, ruining them.

Mrs. Heisel says in the suit that she informed the SP of the situation two years ago, but that nothing has been done to correct it.

The plaintiff asks $35,000 general damages for reduced value of her property, $25,000 special damages and $100,000 punitive damages.

Democrat Plan for Reapportionment Draws GOP Fire

A reapportionment plan unveiled Oct. 6 in Sacramento by Senate Democratic leaders carves San Mateo County into four Senate districts. It came under immediate fire from Republicans.

The plan, which gives Sen. Arlen Gregorio Palo Alto, Mountain View and Stanford, leaves his 12th Senatorial District shaped like a giant barbell. Presently, Gregorio's district follows county lines.

Gregorio said today he hopes to see some aspects of the plan eliminated.

Atherton and Menlo Park would be added to the "safe" district of Watsonville Republican Sen. Donald Grunsky, along with Los Gatos, Los Altos and Saratoga.

Hillsborough and Burlingame and an area stretching to San Carlos, as well as odd-shaped fingers that include most of the populated areas of Marin County and a small district at the eastern end of the San Mateo bridge, would be added to the at-large districts Nine and Ten shared by Sen. Milton Marks and Sen. George Moscone, in San Francisco.

District 14, already shaped like a half moon, and placing under San Jose Senator Clark Bradley GOP areas around Santa Clara, Alameda and Contra Costa counties, shifts to the East Bay, dropping Palo Alto-to-Saratoga and gaining the Orinda, Moraga, Danville and San Ramon areas of Contra Costa County.

The plan, which wipes out the Northern California District of State Senate Republican leader Fred Marler, and replaces it with a "Chicano" district spreading from East Los Angeles to Alhambra like a giant flying bat, was called "ridiculous on its face" by Marler.

The district was one a Mexican-American should win, said Sen. Reapportionment Chairman Mervyn M. Dymally (D-Los Angeles), whose staff prepared the state plan. Dymally has been under months'-long pressure from Chicanos to carve out their district. The new District 2 would have at least 50 per cent Mexican-American registration.

"It is very unfortunate that because of the one-man one-vote system that the reapportionment should be made without regard to city or county lines," said Gregorio.

"After taking a look at this map I thought that the district the committee made for me didn't look too good—until I looked at the Republican plan, which would extend my district all the way to San Jose and would have San Francisco coming down much the same way.

"Under the Republican plan, I would be representing Daly City, Pescadero and Milpitas all at the same time."

Gregorio said that Republicans have shown a bargaining position plan which may not yet be public. He said that the Republican plan appears to give him more Democratic voters than the Democratic plan.

Gregorio said the Democratic leaders had discussed his present district with him and the basic fact "that San Francisco has to come in and gouge out an awful lot of people.

"There wasn't much I could do," he said he told them. "I am not unhappy with representing Palo Alto, however where I attended Stanford.

"But I really hate to see San Mateo County cut up so badly," he said.

He said both Republicans and Democrats seem to agree on the fate of Hillsborough and Burlingame, the basically Republican area of San Mateo County. Republicans want to save Marks, he said.

"It's obviously a plan to appeal to most of the incumbents," he commented.

"I would like to see if we can't eliminate some of the unusual aspects of this district, particularly the situation in the south county where Sen. Grun- his district about 40,000 people," Gregorio said.

"Gregorio said.

"I don't think the county should be represented by four senators," he said.

Gregorio said that almost 394,000 persons from San Mateo County and a little over 100,000 from Santa Clara County would be in his district.

Debate Over Who Will Pay for Work

There seems to be no question as to whether Miller Avenue in South San Francisco should be tied together between Chestnut and Willow Avenues.

There is a question, however, as to who will pay for that road work.

Property owners on the proposed extension site say they will donate the land if the city will pay the cost of construction.

So far, the city has said no deal.

Councilman Frank Mammini was adamant on this position at a recent council session when property owner Mrs. Lebe Merlini made the request.

Mrs. Merlini had made an earlier request to the council and some time before that approached the South San Francisco Unified School District trustees for support.

She explained to the trustees that the completion of the road would beneficially connect Parkway School to the Sunshine Gardens section of the city. She denied to both bodies that she was using the children as a lever to get the street completed for her won personal gain.

The road extension has been the subject of discussions for numerous years. Some say the road was promised when the area was first developed.

Back in 1968 planning commissioners held a public hearing on a rezoning request of Oak Farms, Inc. (a family-owned corporation) to rezone the ap proximately eight acres from single family residential to high (apartment) density residential.

The planning commissioners after the hearing recommended that rezoning be enacted "provided that the Miller Avenue right-of-way is extended from Chestnut Avenue to Willow Avenue, and improved to (the) city's collector street standards prior to enactment."

At that time Fire Chief John Marchi said he couldn't approve of the rezoning until proper sized water mains and hydrants were provided "at no cost to the city."

Director of Public Works Lou Goss in 1968 said "the method of obtaining the required right-of-way and the financing of the improvements of Miller Avenue is a determination that will be made at the council level."

When the planning commissioners' recommendation went to the council, that body approved the proposal, then ordered the matter transferred to a study session, where it apparently died.

In a letter to then-mayor Frank Bertucelli in 1969, Attorney Angelo J. Scampini, representing the property owners, said, "Oak Farm, Inc., is quite anxious to get going in developing its property."

The letter also indicated that the city apparently intended to use gas tax funds for construction of the street, but the matter would have to be deferred for six months pending an evaluation of the budget.

Now the matter is before the council again.

Property owners reiterate that they are unwilling to assume the entire cost of construction of the road. This time, however, the original position that the city should make "some contribution" has changed to a flat position that the city should pay all costs.

Mrs. Merlini even gathered signatures from 650 persons in the area urging the opening of the street through the property.

Goss, meanwhile, at the request of Councilman Mammini, supplied the council with a listing of property owners who have previously contributed to the construction of arterial and collector streets. Miller Avenue is a collector street.

Non-Airport Parking Support Is Criticized

Promotion of an off-the-airport parking service by United Air Lines, Thursday wo the ire of San Francisco Airports Commissioner Wallace Lynn.

Commissioner Lynn told Airports Director James K. Carr that he had ordered a ticket from United, and when the ticket arrived in the mail, the envelope included two slips of paper suggesting that he use "Park 'n Fly" service in South San Francisco instead of parking at the airport.

"The parking garage is our biggest source of revenue," he complained.

"I think this is lousy."

Carr said he had discussed the situation with airlines representatives, and that he had told the airlines people "that if we are short on parking income, we'll make it up in increased rates and charges."

The airport's official attorney opined that perhaps the advertising of another business constitutes a violation of the airline's permit to do business on airport property, and he would look into this.

Carr said he would call it to attention of airline officials.

He noted that a second such service has just been started in Burlingame, the Anza Airport Parking venture.

S.S.F. Boy 9 Hit by Car

A 9 year-old boy was struck by a car last week in South San Francisco.

Police first said he appeared to have a fractured pelvis, but hospital aides report the boy suffered "contusions and abrasions."

Frederick Brooks, son of Mrs. L. W. Brooks, 68 Calvert Avenue, was struck by a car driven by Felice Caplan, 29, of 3 Los Flores Ave, South San Francisco, police say.

According to reports, Mrs. Caplan was southbound on Hickey Boulevard near El Camino Real. Police said the Brooks youth was crossing Hickey at the curve onto El Camino and the driver "didn't see the boy until it was too late."

Prostitution Charged

Burlingame police on Friday arrested on a prostitution charge a Millbrae woman who operates a massage service.

Lydia B. Gindhart, 42, 432 Lincoln Circle, Millbrae, was charged with soliciting an act of prostitution.

She was released after posting $315 bail, and is to appear in Central Judicial District Court October 15.

S.F. Airport Noise Decrease

Noise from aircraft using San Francisco International Airport will get progressively less over the coming years while noise increases at San Jose and Oakland airports.

These are the conclusions of the latest report from a regional airport study being done by the Association of Bay Area Governments.

During the same period, however, noise complaints from planes flying high overhead, 3000 feet and more, are expected to increase.

In a report to ABAG's Bay Area Study of Aviation Requirements, the consulting firm of Bolt Beranek and Newman reports on noise conditions which can be expected through 1985.

Because newer planes are quieter, and existing planes are being retrofitted to make them quieter, and because bigger planes mean fewer flights, people living around San Francisco International Airport will be subjected to less noise by 1985, the report says.

During the same period, the use of Oakland and San Jose airports will increase and people near them will hear more noise simply because there are more planes even if they are quieter.

Oakland Airport's noise problem will not increase so much as San Jose's, say the consultants, because Oakland's big-plane operations are almost entirely over the bay or over shoreside industrial areas.

During the next 15 years, the consultants say, the area around San Francisco International which is "likely to be subjected to significant noise intrusions" will gradually be reduced from the existing 19.4 square mile area, to 11.3 square miles, if there is no change in runway use. By allowing a different usage of runways under certain crosswind conditions the area could be reduced to 8.8 square miles.

According to charts displayed in the report, the 19.4-mile area includes a wide swath of noise from the airport westward through the "Daly City Gap" and including much of Millbrae, San Bruno, and South San Francisco.

A narrower strip of sound is depicted southeastward along the tip of Coyote Point and the bayside portion of Foster City.

An even wider distribution of sound is over the Bay, toward Oakland.

The report notes that "noise complaints arising from relatively high-altitude overflights in transitional airspaces have increased over the last few years and are likely to increase and the ability to disperse flight tracks decreases."

A first official recognition of the fact that different communities react to widely varying degrees of noise, is made in the report.

"It is suggested that there may be differences in people's assessment of the 'appropriateness" of noise from takeoff and landing operations, and of noise from high altitude overflights occurring in communities far distant from airports; such differences may explain why transitional airspace noise may result in more community complaints than might be anticipated."

Such a situation has occurred in San Mateo County, where large numbers of complaints have been made about planes passing over Woodside and Portola Valley at altitudes of 4,000 feet and more, while people in South San Francisco and San Bruno make fewer complaints about noise of planes passing over them at altitudes of a few hundred feet.

The consultants suggest several possible "steps for minimizing the impact of transition overflights" including "shifting flight tracks to locations over areas already exposed to high levels of noise from surface traffic," increasing the altitude of overflights, using lower power settings, reducing the number of flights, and dispersing flight paths.

The shifting of flight paths to reduce noise was the major factor in causing the increased number of complaints from the Woodside and Portola Valley areas during the last two years, airport officials comment.

Tool Theft In San Bruno

Construction tools estimated at $2,000 were taken sometime on October 5 from a storage area at the intersection of San Bruno Avenue and El Camino Real.

Police said Walter Beeson and Associates reported the theft yesterday.

Rats in Millbrae Now a Council Issue

Whether there are rats in Millbrae, became a hot issue last week in the City Hall Council meeting room.

Mayor James O'Connor asked City Administrator Richard Watson to see that the rats are cleaned out of an area along Lomita Creek.

Watson replied, somewhat huffily, that there are no rats in the city, according to statements made to him by inspectors for the County Health Department.

"Those people are giving you a bum steer," said O'Connor. "People are killing rats up there by the dozen."

He said residents complained that the rats came out of a city-owned creekbed area.

Watson again stated that he had had the area searched by health inspectors, and that they had found no rats.

"Don't get defensive," said O'Connor. "I'm not criticizing you, I'm criticizing the Health Department." He said he would write a letter to the County Board of Supervisors, complaining of the lack of service Millbrae receives from the county.

Watson said, "There might possibly be 'roof rats' in the area," animals that live in and around buildings and fences, and that he would again contact health officers to see about extermination.

Millbrae's Sister City Link Rapped

Millbrae's continuing liaison with a "Sister City" located in Chile, a Marxist country, was challenged last week by a local resident.

Homeowner J. G. Black, of Park Boulevard, told City Councilmen he felt he would be "derelict in his duty as an American citizen, not to object" to Millbrae's maintenance of a Sister City relationship with La Serena.

Councilman Art Lepore answered that the Sister City relationship is a long-standing one, going back to the period of President Eisenhower, and had been arranged with the blessing of the U.S. State Department.

He also challenged several of Black's statements of fact, but the Council took no official action on Black's suggestion to sever the Sister City relationship.

Council members agreed to pursue, with every legal weapon at hand, the possibility of excluding taxpayers within the city, from a county-wide fire protection tax.

The City approved a resolution asking this status in February, Mayor James O'Connor said, but somehow the resolution never got to the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, and the city was not dropped from the county's tax rolls.

Mayor O'Connor said the tax assesses nearly five cents per $100 assessed valcation, against every taxpayer in the city, for a service that is not provided.

The Council agreed to meet Monday at 6 p.m. in a special session to award bids for a $23,000 extension of El Capitan Drive.

Councilman Bernard Esser won full support of the Council on his proposal to require a new street easement from possible future developers of the Bayshore Chrysler-Plymouth property on Millbrae and Rollins Road, as a condition for approval of any new project.

Harold Purpus moved for approval of the sale of a small sliver of the "Millbrae Spur" property at Ashton and Millbrae Avenues, for a minimum price of $1,500.

Coast Beach Bill Passes By Gregorio

The State Senate took another step toward assuring public access to a mile long stretch of beach between Pacifica and Half Moon Bay on Friday, when the upper house passed a bill by Senator Arlen Gregorio (D-San Mateo) that make it possible for San Mateo County to purchase the 55 acre parcel along North Montara Beach.

The bill, SB 1099, now goes to the Assembly Natural Resources Committee, where it is expected to pass easily and be sent to the Ways and Means Committee. The Senate vote was 29-1.

Gregorio explained that his bill would restore a $315,000 funding authorization to the state budget which had originally been a part of the state budget, but which was removed by a joint conference committee, without explanation, before final approval of the final state budget.

Gregorio was successful in having the bill reheard in the Senate after the Senate Natural Resources Committee had voted against restoring the budget item more than two months ago.

"My bill will allow the state and county to proceed with plans to preserve the coastside strip for public use," said Gregorio. "It will provide the county the opportunity to obtain this beautiful beach and headlands area for public use." The bill does not require the use of any state funds. Title to the beach would pass to the state.

'Lovely Ladies, Kind Gentlemen'

"Lovely Ladies, Kind Gentlemen" will hold the social spot light in the northern Peninsula area this Saturday evening.

The members of the North Peninsula Circle for the Florence Crittenton Home are presenting their annual benefit fashion show at a dinner in Millbrae's Thunderbolt Hotel and hopes are running high that the inclusion of male fashions into shows spectrum of styles will entice a goodly number of men to make this an occasion for some a deux dining and scrutiny of the latest fashions with their wives or girl friends.

According to Mrs. Murray H. Freedman the occasion should be a memorable with some of the best known local personalities modeling clothes from Arthur's of Westlake and the Fashion of Westlake while Rolfe Peterson lends his wry wit to the commentary.

Women will find their places marked with vials of perfume and Max Factor compacts and all guests will be eligible to receive an award of two round trip tickets to Palm Springs via Air California, an oil painting of an Owl by local artist Edna Van Koughnet or a ladies or gentleman's watch.

Mrs. Dennis Franco is the event's general chairman and assisting her are Mrs. Howard Dunbar, Mrs. Arthur Colman and Mrs. Angelo Carmassi. Mrs. Charles Poggio, 756-4796, or Mrs. Paul Hupf, 755-3038, are still accepting calls for reservations from those who phone within the next two days, according to Mrs. Freedman.

PRIMARILY for the ladies will be the Riordan Guild's Fashion show, also slated for Saturday, entitled "Crusader Carousel."

Mrs. Michael Dudley is the chairman of the luncheon affair which will be held in the Chaminade Hall on the Riordan High School Campus in San Francisco. Festivities will begin at 11 a.m. with a no-host social hour. Luncheon will be served at noon Mrs. Dudley indicated. Fashions will be provided by the stores of Stonestown and Maree Stuber will be the coordinator and commentator. Luis Esquivel will do the photography. Mrs. Richard Cottrell and Mrs. William Donovan have been in charge of the reservations.

Final pre-show reports were presented to the guild's membership last evening during the regular monthly conclave at the school. Guest speaker at last evening's meeting was Captain Edward Moore, formerly a member of the Golden Gate Bridge District's governing body.

MRS. THOMAS CLARK and Mrs. Allen Tamblin, the chairmen of the Abraham Lincoln P-TA's carnival, which was to have been held later this month, have announced the cancellation of that event, according to Mrs. William Holland, publicity chairman for the guild.

ALL EYES WILL be focused on the activities of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild on November 2 when the Serramonte Shopping Center stages Mary's Help Hospital Guild Day.

From the opening until closing of the center on that date special attention will be directed toward the work of the hospital's volunteers. There will be window displays and exhibits relative to contributions made to the hospital by the guild and volunteers win pinafores will be stationed in various stores to answer questions about the volunteer program.

An added attraction will be the fashion show and luncheon to be held in the Ranch Inn at 12:30 p.m. According to Mrs. Mario Mangini, event chairman, members of the guild will model the latest in fashionable attire from a number of shops in the center.

Mrs. Elwin Short and Mrs. Warren will co-chair the fashion show segment of the observance and Mrs. Dan McClory is the chairman of the models' committee.

Mrs. Mangini stressed that the number of tickets to the luncheon will be limited so persons wishing to attend should call Mrs. Price, 756-2851.

In other news from the hospital, Mrs. Dorothy Alves and Mrs. Pat Jennings have announced that the guild is again selling Christmas cards.

Persons who want to assist the volunteers, financially, may do so by dropping by the card display table on the second floor of the hospital any Monday or Thursday between 10:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

FACES BACK on the local scene after absences of varying lengths include Bonnie McByrd who has returned to her home after studying at Stanford University's Paris campus for the past six months; William Goyette who has been vacationing in the midwest—and reports that it is still very warm in that part of the country; and Mr. and Mrs. John Madrosen who can report that there is, indeed, snow at Lake Tahoe and it is "lovely"!

San Bruno Duo Wed 65 Years

Sixty-five years of marriage were marked last week by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruzic of San Bruno.

Hattie and Frank Ruzic were married on October 8, 1906 in St. Louis, Mo. They have lived in California for the past 50 years.

The Ruzics have six children, seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Prior to his retirement Ruzic worked as a machinist. He is a native of Yugoslavia and his wife is a native of Missouri.

Newlyweds Residing In S.S.F.

The marriage of Michele Vullmahn and Frank Ingersoll recently took place at Church of Christ in San Francisco. The Royal Inn at San Francisco International Airport was the setting for the reception which followed.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Disneyland. They are now living in South San Francisco.

Michele is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Vullmahn of South San Francisco. She and Frank are graduates of El Camino High School. He also studied at Skyline College.

Michele asked Janet Avelar of South San Francisco to be her maid of honor and bridesmaids were Frank's sister, Lynn Ingersoll, Sue Craig, Dianne Rudoni and Janice Skoufas, all of South San Francisco. Julie Young was the flower girl.

Brad Ingersoll of South City was his brother's best man. Both are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingersoll of South City. Guests were seated by Danny Wells and Dennis Wells, both of Walnut Creek, Steve Atcheff, Randy and Jeff Ingersoll, also Frank's brothers, and Jeff Vullmahn, Michele's brother, all of South City.

The new matron is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nobel Fraizer. Her husband is the grandson of Mrs. Marie Barnes.

A Golden Wedding Observed

Fifty years of marriage were observed by Mr. and Mrs. Dante Gagliani of South San Francisco recently when they were feted at an anniversary dinner party at the El Rancho Restaurant in Millbrae.

Hosting the event were the couple's children, and their spouses, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fontana of Palos Verdes Peninsula, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Gagliani of Santa Clara. Michael and Patricia Gagliani and Elaine Fontana, their grandchildren, also hosted the affair.

The former Pauline Bertucelli and Dante Gagliani were married on September 25, 1921 at Corpus Christi Church in San Francisco. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bertucelli, pioneer residents of South San Francisco.

A native of Italy, Gagliani has lived in the United States since 1913. He is now retired from the marketing business.

Sugar 'n Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

How about some main dish recipes that are inexpensive, easy to make and delicious? With food costs what they are, I know I'm singing your song and you are humming along.

This first dish uses either tuna or salmon as its main ingredient and the flavor of nutmeg gives it added interest.

FISH SOUFFLE

3 Tablespoons butter or margarine
3 Tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1 can tuna or salmon
1½ cups cooked rice

Melt the three tablespoons margarine or butter in saucepan, add the three tablespoons flour and blend well. Stir in the two cups milk gradually. Add the eighth teaspoon nutmeg and half teaspoon salt. Cook and stir until sauce thickens.

Beat the two egg yolks. Add to creamed mixture along with the can tuna, drained and flaked, and the one and one-half cups cooked rice. Fold in the two stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in buttered casserole at 350-degrees for ½ hour to 40 minutes.

WHEN WE THINK of inexpensive dishes we seem to think of a ground beef, these beef squares topped with mashed potatoes are not only delicious, but very attractive too.

BEEF SQUARES WITH POTATO TOPPING

1½ pounds ground beef
½ cup chili sauce or catsup
1 cup soft whole wheat bread crumbs
1 tablespoon chpped onion
1 egg slightly beaten
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 cups hot seasoned mashed potatoes

In mixing bowl combine the one and one-half pounds round beef, one-half cup chili sauce, one cup soft bread crumbs, one tablespoon chopped onion, the slightly beaten egg, one and one-half teaspoons salt and eighth teaspoon pepper. Mix well. Pack in 8x11-inch baking pan. Bake at 350-degrees for 30 minutes.

Meantime boil, mash and season potatoes. Cut the meat into six squares. Place one-third cup potatoes on each square. Place under broiler just long enough for potatoes to be lightly browned.

A TOSSED GREEN salad would go nicely with these dishes. However you might want to try this favorite salad of mine. Favored because it's so good and so easy to make.

QUICKIE SALAD

1 can peas, drained (size 303)
½ cup diced celery
2 green onions, sliced
2 Tablespoons green pepper, diced
One-third cup mayonaise
2 teaspoons lemon juice
dash garlic salt
Paprika

Drain the peas, add the half cup diced celery, two green onions, two tablespoons diced green pepper. Combine the third cup mayonnaise with the two teaspoons lemon juice and dash garlic salt. Mix into vegetables, cover and chill.

Line salad bowl with lettuce leaves. Place chilled salad in bowl and sprinkle lightly with paprika for color.

Knights Hold 3rd Spelling Contest

Marian Council No. 3773, Knights of Columbus is sponsoring their Third Annual Spelling Bee, this week.

The four parochial grammar schools in the area recently held spell offs in their respective schools and each will send three representatives to the finals. The finals, which will be open to the public, will be held at Holy Angels Parish Hall, 107 San Pedro Road, Colma, on Friday at 8 p.m., according to Grand Knight Tom Curr.

A perpetual trophy will be awarded to the school attaining the highest team score in the finals. The top three spellers will receive the following individual awards: First place a $50 U.S. Savings Bond; second and third places, a $25 U.S. Savings Bond each.

In addition each student reaching the finals will receive a pen and pencil set.

Last year, Our Lady of Mercy won possession of the perpetual trophy for the second consecutive year, taking the top two positions by Brenda Locke and Debbie Zidich. Third place went to Dave Camous of Holy Angels.

Judges for the finals in the Spelling Bee will be the principals of each of the schools participating: Sister Helen, Holy Angels; Sister Veronica, Our Lady of Mercy; Sister Carol, Our Lady of Perpetual Help; and Sister Joyce Cox, Saint Thomas More.

The Jeff Scene

By SUE MCALLISTER

SAN BRUNO Mountain is the last refuge for wildlife on the San Francisco Peninsula. On October 3, about 350 people took a walk up Guadalupe Parkway to prove they feel it should stay in that state.

Some former students, along with many current students from Jeff participated in the walk expressing their concern.

These students listened to speakers including: State Senator Arlen Gregorio, Mrs. Betty Higgins (the organizer), Mr. Calton (representing Crocker Land Developing Company), and Dr. Elizabeth McClintock. Music was provided by Faith, a folksinger. She sang a song written about Daly City called "Little Boxes." The theme of the song deals with the fact that the tract houses are all built so much alike they look like little boxes.

This action was just a preliminary action of what needs to be done.

THE STUDENT Government Class held a reception for the Jeff faculty. The purpose of the reception was to mingle and talk. Though it got off to a slow start, by the end of the reception students and teachers had had meaningful conversations with each other.

Many teachers expressed a desire to have more receptions. Hopefully the communication between the two factions will grow.

Y-Teen Week Celebration Now Underway in County

The annual Y-Teen Week celebrated in this country by teenage members of community YWCA's in all 50 states will be observed October 10-16, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Esther Talavera. "We are all aware today more than ever before that youth is on the march and is determined to make their efforts count for changes for the better in today's society," says Mrs. Talavera.

One objective of our observance of Y-Teen Week is to call attention to these idealistic, sincere, young people. If you have some ideas on how change can come about, come share them with us.

Youth Power in Action, theme of the week will emphasize opportunities offered to the young people of the community for recreation, fellowship and constructive action for realizing the priority goal of the YWCA of the United States of America, "Elimination of Racism."

Young Women Committed to Action are adding new dimensions to YWCA services.

Daly City Mayor Bernard Lyatt's proclamation on Y-Teen Week follows:

WHEREAS, mounting, often unfavorable, attention is focused upon the increasingly activist roles played by much of the youth of our nation today, causing many older citizens to deplore and condemn youth instead of listening and encouraging them in their determined resolve and efforts to try to build a better and more just society; and

WHEREAS, the YWCA of our country is an organization which has and is listening, as well as responding to the voices of today's youth by working with them toward building a better society;

WHEREAS, YWCA members, including Y-Teens, throughout the 50 states have adopted as their number one priority — "the Elimination of Racism"; and

WHEREAS, the Y-Teens, who are teenage members of the YWCA welcome the opportunity for working on this number one priority as a positive and constructive action toward achieving a better and more just society in today's world;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, BERNARD J. LYCETT, Mayor of the City of Daly City, do hereby proclaim the week of October 10-16 as National Y-Teen Week and heartily commend the contribution they are making, to the welfare of our community and our society today.

BERNARD J. LYCETT
Mayor of the City of Daly City.

Beef Vs. Chicken

The imminent arrival of cool weather signals the end of chef's salads and marks the cook's return to the oven.

Here's a variety of beef entrees that will be easy to prepare in the autumn days ahead.

ORIENTAL BEEFSTRIPS

2 pounds round steak, cut one inch thick
2 tablespoons cooking fat
Water
1-3 cup soy sauce
2 teaspoons sugar
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 clove garlic, minced
3 carrots
2 green peppers, cut in one-inch squares
8 green onions, cut in one-inch pieces
½ pound mushrooms, halved
1 eight-ounce can water chestnuts, halved
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup water
Cooked rice

Cut round steak in strips one-eighth thick or thinner and three to four inches long. When round steak is partially frozen, thin strips can be cut more easily. Brown strips in cooking fat. Pour off drippings, measure and add water to make one cup. Combine with soy sauce, sugar, pepper and garlic and add to meat. Cover and cook slowly 45 minutes. Using vegetable parer, cut carrots lengthwise into thin strips and cut strips in half. Add carrots, peppers, onions, mushrooms and water chestnuts to meat, cover and continue cooking 15 minutes. Combine cornstarch and water and use to thicken cooking liquid for gravy. Serve with cooked rice. Six to eight servings.

BEEFBURGERS

1 pound lean ground chuck
1 egg
½ cup fine soft bread crumbs
2 thinly sliced green onions
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons catsup
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons milk
2 cups biscuit mix

Using a fork, lightly mix ground beef and all remaining ingredients except biscuit mix. Shape into six mounds in shallow baking pan. Prepare biscuit dough for making rolled biscuits according to label directions. Knead lightly on floured surface and pat into six-by-nine-inch shape. Divide into six squares and make an X-cut in the center of each. Place one square over each beef mound. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for 25 minutes. Garnish with raw vegetables and pickles. Makes six servings.

ROAST BEEF WITH BOURBON SAUCE

¼ cup soy sauce
½ teaspoon ginger
⅛ cup bourbon
¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons molasses
¾ cup orange juice
1 large clove garlic, crushed
1 medium-sized onion, chopped
1 4-pound rolled beef rib roast
¼ cup all-purpose flour
½ cup water

Combine soy sauce, ginger, bourbon, brown sugar, vinegar, molasses and orange juice. Mix well. Add garlic, onion and beef. Chill three to four hours, turning frequently. Remove beef; reserve bourbon mixture. Place beef on rack in shallow roasting pan. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) 2 and ¼ hours to 2 and ¾ hours or until meat thermometer registers 140 to 170 degrees (depending upon desired degree of doneness.) Remove beef to heated serving platter. Reserve bourbon mixture and water and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve bourbon sauce with beef roast. Makes about six servings.

The list includes collecting materials from the home and community for use by hospital patients, service men and women, as well as local residents.

Sexy Girls Help Sell Gas, Claims 2 Operators

By BOB PETERSON

Sex sells, say the ad men on Madison Avenue, New York.

Jerry Fortes is putting that adage to work on the corner of El Camino Real and San Bruno Avenue, San Bruno.

Fortes, manager of San Bruno Shell, has hired five women to sell gas. He calls them "island attendants."

"I want to see if this will increase gallonage," said Fortes, seven years the manager of the station.

The girls have been working for four weeks, aperiod Fortes admits is too short to tell whether gas sales have increased.

Following close behind was another Shell dealer, Carl Fava of San Mateo — who also is employing girls to vacuum his customers' cars and to provide special service.

Fortes apparently feels he must do something to keep customers coming to the station, especially in light of the fact the opening of Interstate 380 from 280 to Bayshore will reduce the traffic on San Bruno Avenue past his station.

"I get 60 per cent of my business on that (San Bruno Avenue) street," said Fortes.

The idea is not original. Once Fortes made the decision to hire women, he simply ran a classified ad. It produced immediate results.

Requisites for the job were listed as "over 18, attractive and outgoing," said Fortes. The girls were given a day-long training session on the difference between a gas cap and the cover to the oil fill point, among other critical bits of information.

"The men like it. Some women don't," said Fortes. The girls greet customers in hot pants and blouses.

Fortes said one big drawback is the weather. "Although the weather has been nice recently, it is usually cold," he said. "I may have to let them go in the winter because of the rain and the wind."

How do the women like the job?

Angel Histo, 24-year-old Daly City wife and mother of three said, "It's a good job. It's good exercise and keeps me in shape. We're not women's libbers either," she added.

Mrs. Histo said her husband encourages her in her work. "We're not competing with men. We're kind of helping them out," she said. "And I'm not a tomboy."

Joyce Mehl, 25-year-old San Matean, said she likes being outdoors. She declined a secretarial job to man (woman?) the pumps.

"It's much, much better here than in an office," she said. Miss Mehl noted that any flirting by the male customers is done in a nice way."

Tall blonde 18-year-old South San Franciscan Sherry Hendrickson said she liked the work because she liked meeting people. She is a recent graduate of El Camino High School and worked a short time as an aide to retarded children.

Listing the attributes of female service station attendants, the girls agreed they were more courteous, gave more attention to the customer, trying to please him more, and they aren't as sloppy about spilling gasoline.

S.F. Man Killed in Accident

Michael C. Simmons, 23, of San Francisco, was fatally injured early Sunday when his motorcycle crossed over the double line on Interstate 280 south of San Bruno avenue in San Bruno and crashed headon into an auto driven by a Hillsborough woman.

Highway Patrolman R. H. Proia reported there was no apparent reasons for the accident, although Simmons was believed to have been drinking. Proia reported the accident occured at 1 a.m., and Simmons died at Peninsula hospital shortly after 4 a.m.

The driver of the other vehicle, Ana F. Krauss, 42, of 1565 Bairn drive, Hillsborough, reported she was northbound in the fast lanes when she suddenly saw one headlight heading directly toward her. Although she swerved to the right, Proia reported she was unable to avoid the accident.

D.C. Firemen Keep Busy

Two afternoon fires kept Daly City smoke eaters busy Thursday.

One, at 3:29 p.m., at 127 Los Banos, was an abandoned house scheduled to be torn down to make way for the BART right-of-way.

Firemen blamed vandalism for the blaze and gave no estimate of loss since the house was to be torn down anyhow.

The second fire was at 3:43 p.m. at 139 Evergreen, home of Robert Heideman.

Authorities said the fire apparently was started by spontaneous combustion with paint stored too close to the furnace.

Damage to the house was estimated at $7,000 and contents loss was estimated at $3,000. Contents, included six burial caskets, four of which were destroyed.

Christo Pallas Fights 280 Construction

Christo M. Pallas, member of the San Bruno Park School District's Goals Committee and a candidate for a trustee in yesterday's election, said that he is "unalterably opposed" to the construction of Freeway 380 through Crestmoor Canyon. He said it would create, "by the State Division of Highways own Environmental Report's admission, an intolerable noise and pollution hazard for the children attending Willard Engvall Intermediate and Crestmoor Elementary Schools."

Pallas asserted that, although the State has already paid the District $900,000 for the combination of 7 acres scheduled to be lopped off the Engvall property and 1.3 acres to be taken from the Crestmoor Elementary grounds, he would undertake as a Trustee to persuade the other board members to reverse their approval of the Freeway and to encourage the San Bruno City Council to rescind the agreement.

Noting that the Freeway is planned to run "within 540 feet of the nearest classrooms at Engvall and create noise levels of at least 68 decibels," Pallas called the $900,000 "blood money for our children" and added that it may well cause "much more damage than that to their blood vessels and nervous systems."

Pallas emphasized he was not being critical of two present members of the Board who in 1963 opposed 380 pending proof that education would not be harmed by the Freeway and then later apparently relaxed their opposition. Perhaps they thought the State had given them satisfactory assurances, but this current Environmental Study tells a different story."

Pallas indicated he would not be "ultimately concerned about the loss of the $900,000 from repossession of the school properties previously transferred to the State Highway Department.

11 Streets To Be Fixed In South SF

Street improvements on 11 South San Francisco roads will begin in about two weeks, and end the first part of December, according to Assistant City Engineer Ray Maxwell.

The city earlier this week awarded a $101,000 contract for street improvement to the Piombo Construction Company.

Terms of the contract call for the completion within 35 working days. Maxwell said this schedule will be adhered to "barring bad weather or unforeseen delays."

The 1971 street improvement program includes:

Alta Loma Drive from Newman Drive to Camaritas Avenue, Capay Circle from Aroyo Drive to Arroyo Drive, Northwood Drive from Hazelwood Drive to Hazelwood Drive.

Also Hazelwood Drive from Rosewood Drive to Maywood Drive, Orange Avenue from El Camino Real to Memorial Drive, Orange Avenue from Circle Court to Grand Avenue, Park Way from Eucalyptus Avenue to Orange Avenue.

And Larch Avenue from Kearney Street to Highland Avenue, Victory Avenue from South Spruce to South Maple Avenue, Mitchell Avenue from Airport Boulevard to Harbor Way and Utah Avenue from Colma Creek to Littlefield Avenue.

Hit-Run Suspect Surrenders

South San Francisco police have booked a San Bruno man for felony hit and run after an accident on Friday that put a Daly City man in the hospital with chest injuries.

Carlton Cordeiro, 27, of 177 Diamond St., San Bruno, turned himself in to South San Francisco police about four-and-one-half hours after David Boicelli, 21, of 75 Mateo Dr., Daly City, was hospitalized. He is in "guarded" condition today, hospital officials said.

According to police the two men in separate cars were apparently in a speed contest on El Camino Real near the Macy's Warehouse at about 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

Police said the cars rounded a curve going northbound, with Boicelli in a Volkswagen in the slow lane and Cordeiro in a Chevrolet in the fast lane.

HMB Edges Rams; Cap in Tie

Westmoor Upset in A Thriller

By JERRY LITTRELL

It was said at the start of this campaign that the Half Moon Bay Cougars would upset a few teams along the way.

Jerry Murphy's crew didn't wait long to fulfill that promise, upsetting the previously undefeated Westmoor Rams in a thriller to open North Peninsula League play Friday afternoon.

The Cougars came through with a solid 19-14 victory in a hard-fought game (on many counts) while the rest of the schedule went pretty much as expected. South San Francisco upended Terra Nova, 21-7, El Camino blanked Oceana, 27-0, and Jefferson downed Serramonte, 34-7.

A bench-clearing fight halted the game a few seconds prematurely, but the Cougars had things well in hand at that point. After losing three tough pre-season contests, the HMB eleven revised its attack a little, came up with a devastating ground game and took it to the favored Rams. Led by senior Jeff Yerian (14 carries for 109 yards), the Cougars ran up 233 yards rushing and threw, surprisingly enough, only nine times for 50 yards.

All scoring came from medium to long range. Flanker Bob Hunt got two first half touchdowns for the winners when he gathered in a 24-yard pass from Frankie Reyes before his second period 67-yard run. Westmoor made a brief run after intermission when fullback Tom Price went in from the 20 but Yerian, after a controversial pass completion call, scampered 68 yards for the killer.

South City unveiled a new quarterback and a more wide-open offense yesterday, but when the chips were down they went to their bread-and butter offense — ground control running attack — in rallying for the 21-7 victory over Terra Nova. Junior Rhod Wallace guided the Warriors to the win with his skillful quarterbacking, passing to Tom Hinkle in the first period for a 26-yard TD and scoring the winning points on a one-yard slant in the third period.

The Tigers had tied the game at 7-up in the third period when Wallace's pass was intercepted by Riewerts on the 30 and run in for the touchdown. But after the ensuing kickoff the Warriors marched 44 yards in nine plays, eight on power shots up the middle, before Wallace tallied. Tony Bernardini added the final Warrior score the next time SSF went on offense when he ended a 71-yard drive with a three-yard run.

Terra Nova's inability to run against the Warriors (the Tigers gained only 68 yards rushing) cost them the balance they needed for John Racanelli's passing game to work. Still, the senior thrower was 12 for 23. Punter Bob Bachtold was prostat yesterday, punting four times for a 45-yard average.

ALWAYS A BETTER WAY — Capuchino quarterback Ken Swan (18) could not find much running room on Friday against Lowell. So he did it defensively, with 87-yard interception return that gave the 'Tangs a 6-6 tie. (Post Photo)

Mustangs Miss 1st Win Chance

By STEVE JOHNSON

Capuchino High School heads into this year's Mid-Peninsula League race with little better than darkhorse chances. And considering the records of some of the teams they will play, that may be stretching the point.

At least that was the impression given at the Friday 6-6 tie with Lowell of San Francisco on the Cap Field.

The Indians came into the game with a 1-2 record, having already lost to Westmoor 16-14 in unimpressive fashion. They obviously hadn't improved much since that encounter. During the scoreless first half, it soon became clear just how things were going to develop.

Lowell could manage just two first downs against a gutty Cap defense, which although outweighted by some trefendous figure, controlled the Indian offense throughout the first 24 minutes.

Capuchino did a little better, but not much. The Mustangs went for five firsts, and actually were able to run the ball with a little consistency at times but not at the right times.

About then, one might have started figuring that if anyone was going to score at all, it probably wouldn't be offensively.

That turned out to be the way Capuchino was thinking. After the Mustangs had driven out of a mess at their own three, only to lose the ball on a fumble to Lowell at midfield, things began to get interesting.

Indian quarterback Bill Dittoe, for once escaping the persistent 'Tang rush, hit Al Sockolov for 25 yards down to the Cap 26, and, believe it or not, were threatening.

Mustang defensive Ken Swan, who also did much of the quarterbacking, put an end to that in a hurry. On the last play of the third quarter, Swan picked off an errant Dittoe pass on the sideline, and went 87 yards with it for the first score, touching off a wild celebration in the Cap rooting section. At that point, you couldn't blame them. Anything looked like enough.

But Lowell wasn't about to give up. With time running out, Dittoe connected on a long gainer down to the Mustang 26, and this time the Indians took it in, with Dennis Barfield going 11 yards on a nifty reverse play to tie things up.

Lowell missed the extra point after getting hit with an offside penalty, and Sockolov's kick from the eight went wide.

With the tie, Capuchino missed a chance for its first win of the year.

Now, the Mustangs will have to take on undefeated Burlingame, and that's a pretty tough way to try and get your first win.

But Coach Vince Marchi will have his team ready. "We probably could have played a lot better tolay, but we did show some signs of coming along, and as for Burlingame, we'll really be peaking for them."

That will be necessary. Lowell and Burlingame are two completely different stories.

Bader's Jewelers stopped Lady J's aspirations for a second place finish by downing them by the final score of 7 to 2.

Jeff Graff was outstanding in the field and consistently stopped balls that should have been hits. Bob Farber and Jeff Simon each had 3 hits for the winners.

Tigers Edge Corsairs in Ball League

The Ladies' Fall Softball League, Daly City ended last week at Westlake Park.

The Daly City Toyota Tigers managed to squeeze by the Corsairs to take first place league honors. The Tigers took an early lead of 9-0 only to have the Corsairs Rally in the fifth inning to tie the score. A double credited to Sherry Garner and a timely single by Sharon Cassidy produced what proved to be the winning combination in the final inning.

Hitting power was evident for the Tigers. Cheryl Brennick connected for two doubles followed by a triple for Karen Ward and both a triple and double for Sherry Gardner. Marilyn Milner was credited with outstanding fielding.

Audrey Arnold, Corsair pitcher, stopped two hard line drives, while Lynn Podesta trapped a difficult line drive. Ev Henderson and Linda Perez each went through for three with Linda also lining up a double. Shirley Sherwin also connected for a double.

The Salt and Peppers secured their second place position by hammering out an easy victory of 17-8 over the Road Runners. Salt and Peppers hitting was led by Loretta Anderson yho slammed out a homerun and two triples. Liz and Brenda Jones each went three for three and their hitting was backed by Juana Arranda.

The Road Runners were sparked by a double play by Nasha Doninguez. Denyse Barr leveled off for a triple while Beverly Pacheco supported her team effort with topnotch fielding.

Becoming Ref Isn't Easy

(Second in a series of two columns on local nationally renowned fight referee Jack Downey)

Becoming a referee isn't easy, nor is staying one. You start out like Jack Downey did, officiating amateurs, sometimes up to 20-25 bouts a night, eventually work up to professional preliminaries, local mains, and then, if you're good, the big national interest fights, and, finally, if you're very good, the title fights.

During the climb there is a lot to learn and a lot of pressure, and even if you're good, one bad night may halt or at least greatly slow down your career. And you've got to keep in practice and in condition. Work a lot, even if it may sometimes be for nothing, and undergo annual physicals by the boxing commission. Referees can't even get insurance. (Although Downey has been clobbered several times — "A couple of times deliberately" —he says he's never heard of a ref being seriously injured in the ring.)

JUST LIKE AN UP and coming athlete, you hope to catch the eye of the people who can get you better jobs — promoters and fight managers. Although technically boxing commissions choose the officials for each fight, managers and promoters can influence selections. When the promoters, managers and commission meet preliminary to staging a fight, they try to figure the best way to put on a good show. The commission will usually submit a list of what it considers to be the best referees, and the promoters and managers then try to choose the ref who they think can best handle the situation.

Sometimes the commission will simply pick a ref and submit that one name to the principles. Managers can object to referees, but they must submit their objections in writing so many days before the fight. Most commissions will allow managers one objection, but no more, and that decision is final.

Technically, a referee can challenge a manager who doesn't want him, and if he argues better, he can retain the fight. Downey, however, almost always voluntarily pulls out if a manager objects to him, because of anything unusual happens, "there's always trouble."

Unfortunately, Downey notes, a referee can never be quite sure what it takes to please a manager. He remembers controlling one fight so well that it later cost him a good pay day.

In late 1955 Downey was assigned to a non-title bout at San Francisco's Civic Auditorium between featherweight champ Sandy Saddler and a tough Mexican named Dave Gallardo.

"SADDLER HAD EVIDENTLY underrated Gallardo, a rought fighter," Downey relates, "who started fast, boring in on Saddler, hitting him a lot in the body, and it might have looked to some people like Gallardo was fighting dirty but he wasn't. Saddler started getting mad and began to retaliate. I could see what he was up to, and every time I saw Saddler getting into it, I stopped him.

"Pretty soon Saddler had Gallardo's lips and nose bleeding and Gallardo was blowing blood out of his nose, and both Saddler and I were covered with blood. Saddler kept up the dirty retaliation, and every time I stopped him, his excuse was that Gallardo was spitting on him and calling him dirty names, which wasn't true.

"Well, Saddler finally knocked Gallardo out in seven, and after the fight Saddler's manager congratulated me on the way I had handled the fight.

"In May of '56, Saddler was to meet Flash Elorde in San Francisco for the title, and when the commission mentioned my name for the bout, Saddler's manager howled and I didn't get the tight. His charge was that I hadn't allowed Saddler to fight his type of fight. All I had done was kept it from being a spectacle, but it cost me a lot of money."

The qualities that go into making a good referee are varied. One of the surprising qualities Downey notes a ref must have is diplomacy. For example, a ref must keep moving to continually be in the best possible position to see the fight, but he shouldn't move faster than the fighters or he'll make them look slow, and perhaps in a small way show them up.

"When refs can't make it," says Downey, "it's generally when they lose control of the fighters. Poor judgment, of course, is another thing. Then some can't stand the excitement, the pressure, the responsibility. Now, these qualities are kind of nebulous. I mean, how do you learn to gain a fighter's respect? And you can know all there is to know about boxing and still have poor judgment. And coolness under pressure is something you just don't learn by the book. One thing, though, that a referee can train himself to do is concentrate, and in refereeing, concentration is the key.

"You must train yourself to shut out everything but what's going on between the fighters. You must learn to ignore outside influences. You still figure during that minute's rest between rounds about how the fight's going.

"Of course, it helps a referee if he's had some practical ring experience, and almost all of us have, but for some reason fellas who were top-notch fighters almost always make poor refs. I don't know why. Maybe because they are prominent and know that they are part of the show, and perhaps they become self-conscious and worry more about pleasing the crowd than concentrating on the bout.

"MAX BAER could referee a fight and get by with anything. He wouldn't even look at the fight. He'd walk around throwing his chest out, mugging.

"Now take Jack Dempsey as a referee. He did a fight between Rex Layne and Ezzard Charles in Ogden, and he called six or seven rounds even. To me, that isn't good refereeing. I try not to call a round even. For this simple reason: there's always something that you can pick out in a fighter that can win a round for him. If the round is fairly even, you start to think back. Thinking about maybe one fighter's got good ring generalship, makes good moves. The other fighter's aggressive, but awkward, and so on. So based on these kinds of judgments, you pick one or the other."

Downey says that an aspect of scoring which is most often misunderstood by fans is the judging of rounds which fighters end with last second flourishes.

"Sugar Ray Robinson and Kid Gavilan were noted for finishing rounds with 10 or 20 second flurries, and 'stealing' the round. Many fans said that Gavilan only fought for 10-20 seconds of every round, and they often accused refs of having been bamboozled. 'Just caught the ref's eye,' they'd say.

"But that wasn't the case. Such fighters would often actually take the edge in a close round with those flurries. So they weren't just catching the ref's eye, they were scoring points."

When Downey refereed the Bobo Olson-Ray Robinson middleweight title fight in San Francisco in 1952, he had Olson slightly ahead after 10. Olson's manager, Sid Flaherty, also figured Olson to be ahead, but apparently somewhat more than slightly, and told Olson to take it easy. Robinson went all out in the last four rounds to grab the edge, and Downey was accused by Flaherty of having had his "eye caught." Which, says Downey, wasn't the case, because Robinson had done some fighting before the last four rounds too.

ONE OF THE HARDEST fights for a referee to judge is a bout between a powder-puff who lands often, and a slugger who doesn't land often but hurts when he does.

"Technically," says Downey, "a fella lands a punch on his opponent, no matter how hard, it's a score. But a ref has to use that good judgment. A powder-puff may be hitting a guy a lot, but just not being effective at all, whereas an aggressive fighter, who may be missing a lot, may also really be hurting the powder-puff every time he hits him.

"In amateur fighting, a knockdown is supposed to be counted as no more than a left jab. But I say that boxing is a test of strength and endurance. So if one fighter has the strength to knock down another, and the other doesn't have the endurance to get up quickly, I say that the knockdown is more than just a left jab."

Downey has a suspicion that there are some refs who favor boxers, some who favor sluggers, depending on how they fought when they were in the ring. Downey admits that he's partial to clever boxers and fighters with class and courage. He would rather referee a fight that goes the limit and that is very close.

Jack, who trains new refs for the commission, also claims that many new and-or amateur refs often give themselves away by unconscious actions.

"A ref must try to keep as much a neutral body position as he can. Some young refs, for example, will stand in a neutral corner pointing their leg toward the corner they had favored in the previous round. Or, when they're making out their scorecard, sometimes they'll forget who's in what corner, and they'll glance over their shoulder at the man they're giving the round to. Or they'll lean toward the corner of the guy they're voting for."

JACK FEELS THAT one of the best ways to encourage a good fight is for the ref to instill in the participants a feeling of confidence. That way they may concentrate on fighting their fight without having to worry about the ref making a bad decision which may affect them.

Most refs use stubs of pencils with erasers at the top to mark their scorecards. Downey has always used a fountain pen. That's confidence, and that's why Jack Downey is one of the best fight referees in the country.

Blue-Eyed Beauty Is Grand National Queen

A 21-year-old blue-eyed horsewoman who toured Europe with a professional rodeo show was selected today to reign as Queen of the 1971 Grand National, October 22-31 at Daly City's Cow Palace.

Ann Lynn Tucker of Shandon, Calif., will be the official hostess for all 14 Grand National performances, which feature the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and their Musical Ride, plus a world championship rodeo and complete horse show.

Selected Cahmpion Cowgirl of California by the Junior Cowboy's Association in 1969, Ann was asked to join a rodeo show touring through Eruope, a venture that provided "a wealth of experience I could never have learned from books."

An excellent horsewoman (she won the horsemanship award at the 1970 Salinas Rodeo), Ann has a remarkable amount of professional experience for a girl who has not yet finished her sophomre year of college. In addition to the European rodeo performances, she rode and trained colts at The Flag Is Up, the premiere racehorse breeding farm in the country.

Born and raised around animals, Ann learned to ride while just a little girl. Her father, now a rancher in Shandon, once roped steers for the Rodeo Cowboys' Association.

Riding on Miss Mollie Peake her Bay quarter horse, Ann earned winning scores in horsemanship, poise, beauty and personality from Judges James Indart of Hollister, Linda Rosser of Maryville, Bud Johns of Levi Strauss & Co., San Francisco, and Ann Demeter, Demeter Model Agency, San Francisco.

The runner-up was Judy Landergen, 18, of San Martin, Calif., riding Jason O'Lark.

Construction Shows Gain

Building was up in San Bruno during September according to the monthly report of the Building Inspection Department.

Yet, for the nine month period of 1971 valuations of building permits have decreased from the 1970 figure.

For September of this year one new dwelling had a $30,000 valuation and six new commercial structures were valued at $3,611,000. There were no figures in these categories for the 1970 period.

As to residential alterations, in 1971 there were 22 valued at $23,124 compared with 28 in 1970 for a value of $41,740.

Seven commercial alterations in 1971 had a total value of $111,750. In 1970 there were 11 for a value of $26,122.

The total of 392 permits in 1971 as of the end of September have a valuation of $15,734,398. In 1970 there were 321 permits valued at $17,713,507 for the same period.

mino blanked the visiting Sharks at Clifford Field.

No runner or passer cracked the magic century mark, but the red-flag brigade handed out a necessary 222 yards in no-no yardage to both squads.

Still, the Colts were able to stiffle all other offensive threats by the Sharks, while the defense rushed the Oceana kicking game to death.

Careless play killed Oceana at times. Like letting a kickoff roll dead only to have the Colts fall on the loose ball for a repossession that would have made Loan Sharks Inc. proud. Halfback Dave Alvarez popped over from the four and quarterback Rudy Castellanos optioned over from the eight to put the game away in the first quarter.

Defensive end Mark Spivey blocked and attempted punt just before break time and Bob Bolds ran it in from the 11 to ice the Camino win. Another blocked punt in the second half resulted in the now-common safety play for Camino.

Jefferson utilized the running of Anthony Aaron, the passing of Chinto Fonseca and the catching talents of Gary Lindsey to run up the 34-7 win over winless Serramonte.

The Westmoor High School Recycling Cneter in Daly City has been closed, because some persons have ignored the signs on the Westmoor campus and have dumped all kinds of items including garbage at the rear entrance.

School officials have indicated that it is costing taxpayers' money to have school personnel clean and dump rubbish. Persons interested in taking materials to a recycling center may use the Serramonte Recycling Center, at Callan and Warwick.

The center serves the entire Daly City area, collecting a number of paper items, tin cans, aluminum pie tins, foil, and glass bottles.

The Serramonte Recycling Center will be open the first Saturday of each month from 9 a.m. to noon.

D.C. Boys' Soccer League Now Taking Applications

The recently formed Westlake International Soccer Club (WISC), in co-sponsorship with the Daly City Recreation Department will offer a seven-a-side local soccer league for boys six through 13 years.

The Westlake International Soccer Club was formed to promote the game of soccer, the international favorite field game, in the greater Daly City area. Already three young men from this area have made the United States Olympic soccer team and final tryout.

The Westlake International Soccer Club hopes to develop many more of this caliber in the years to come and start them young, starting with its part in Daly City first seven-a-side league ever.

The boys will play in four divisions starting October 23 through December 18 each Saturday from 10-12. While playing in the league, boys will be taught the basic skills and rules of soccer by an experienced coach staff that numbers several semi-pro players on its roster.

Every parent whose son will participate in the seven-a-side league has been urged to attend the annual parents' general meeting of the Westlake International Soccer Club on October 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the office of the Westlake Subdivision Improvement Association at 15 Southgate Avenue, second floor. Next to the Daly City Motor Vehicle Department Office.

Should parents be unable to attend this meeting, boys must be brought personally to Ben Franklin Playground, opposite Garden Village School on Park Plaza Drive on October 23, from 10 a.m. to noon for registration.

There will be no registration or other fee charged. Teams by age group will be made up as boys arrive.

The Westlake International Soccer Club and Daly City Recreation Department will provide uniform shirts. Boys must wear tennis or soccer shoes while playing. It is recommended they wear shorts or light jeans of any type for ease in running on the field.

The Westlake International Soccer Club will award pennants to each player on the winning team of each league.

Chest X-rays To Be Given

Public chest X-rays and breathing tests will be offered on three consecutive October days in Daly City by the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association of San Mateo County.

The Association's new mobile unit will be at Westlake Shopping Center October 20-22. Hours of operation all three days will be noon to 2 p.m. and 3 to 6 p.m. No advance appointmentis needed.

Chest X-rays give early warning of TB, lung cancer and enlarged heart. Breathing tests can detect respiratory impairments caused by such diseases as emphysema.

BETTER BUSINESS

By LORENE BEASLEY
Better Business Bureau

Unscrupulous promoters were quick to take advantage of Equal Opportunity legislation are very successfully working on the advertiser concerned with civil rights.

Calling themselves "advertising agencies," the promoters set up telephone "boiler rooms" in cities. They hire many telephone solicitors on commission basis who make local and long distance calls to the top executives of firms, both large and small. The title of "Doctor" has been frequently used to get the executive's attention.

The pitch used by the caller is that he represents an un-heard of Negro newspaper. He may represent the paper as one with a nation-wide distribution and such distribution is further inferred by the words "national" or "international," words which may be contained in the paper's name.

A favorite pitch is that the publication is putting out a special edition for which the caller is recruiting the advertising. Some editions reported recently are "Back to School," "Jobs for Thousands," "Watts Festival," "Martin Luther King," "Equal Opportunity," "Drug Rehabilitation" and "Youth Job Training."

The cost for advertising space can run as high as $800 for a half page. However, the usual request is between $300 and $400. The executive is led to believe he is being quoted the newspaper's bona fide standard published rate, when, in reality, the amount has been greatly increased. The caller implies that the proceeds of the employment recruitment advertising will go to community projects, particularly those projects involving activities in the minority areas. It is also implied that unless employers place their advertising in the publications, they are not fulfilling the requirements of the equal opportunity law in not making every effort to reach minority applicants.

On March 17, 1971 promoters or "Black American," "American Dispatch," "Afro Agency" and "Mexican Journal" were indicted on charges of mail fraud, fraud by wire, conspiracy and aiding and abetting charges.

Solicitations were made by mail and telephone, leaving recipients with the impression that proceeds would be used to obtain jobs and education for individuals of minority groups. No such program allegedly existed and the defendants allegedly converted the proceeds to their own personal benefit.

The Better Business Bureau recommends that any firm solicited in this manner obtain the solicitor's name and phone number. Phone the newspaper direct and question the advertising rate. Check to see if the solicitor is actually an employee of the publication. It is wise to ask for a sworn circulation statement. The U.S. Post Office provides a sworn postal statement for newspapers mailed in bulk to one of their stations.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Nick's For Private Banquets And Parties

An adventure in dining is yours in any of Nick Gust's exciting restaurants. The magic touch of Old Mexico is exemplified in the Papagayo Room's varied cuisine, warm decor and authentic songs and music. Mexican food is Mexico inspired. Located at the water's edge in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, the Papagayo Room is open Wednesday through Sunday, 4 p.m. to midnight . . . Breakfast, luncheon and dinner is a delightful interlude in the relaxed atmosphere at Nick's, where every table in the dining room, as well as the cocktail lounge, affords a view of the Pacific's breakers dashing to shore. Food for every taste is available, whether it's a morning, noon or evening meal. Private banquet or special gathering facilities are also available . . . Wine and dine with executives at The Moonraker, where Continental cuisine is served in an atmosphere of nautical splendor . . . The dining rooms at Scotty Campbell's are softly lighted, with gracious appointments and spacious, comfortable booths and well-spaced tables. The cocktail lounge provides a warm, intimate setting not unlike your own living room. Specialties include superb prime ribs served to your order; "Steak as you like it," and numerous fish dishes. Mary Lou Francis is the dynamic hostess co-owner at this Redwood City award-winning restaurant which caters to demanding epicures.

VETERAN AT CHARTIER — Contrary to what you read in this corner last Friday, the Villa Chartier has proudly returned to the regular, tried-and-true menu of old in the Fireside Room. After many requests from countless regular customers, the 45-year-old restaurant has brought back the wonderful original menu of dining favorites, along with the incomparable spread of multi-courses. And back in the kitchen to prepare the dishes is chef Johnny Lim, who was an 18-year veteran at the Villa Chartier. General Manager El Smits points up, too, the famed service at the restaurant. "Our experienced waitresses have been with us for many years and they know how to provide gracious, old-world service." "Keeper of Good Memories for more than 45 years" is the Villa Chartier's well-deserved slogan.

Greenbachs Welcome You To The Villa Hotel

The Villa Hotel, a distinguished San Mateo gathering place which is only minutes from the Airport, and convenient to the Hillsdale Shopping Mall and close by Bay Meadows, has joined in the Foodservice Industry's nationwide campaign to improve courtesy and hospitality in restaurants and other service establishments. The theme of the 1971 drive during the month of October is "We're Glad You're Here." "Our employees," say The Greenbachs, "are being asked to redouble their efforts to be especially pleasant — to prove it with warm, courteous service." And this feeling of goodwill extends through the Villa Coffee House, where breakfast, luncheon and dinner is served around the clock; the Villa Lounge, featuring the dance sounds of the Charlie Blackwell Trio, from 9 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays; in the well-appointed lodging facilities, and the private banquet rooms, where small or quantity gatherings entertain in quality settings for luncheon, dinner, meetings and conventions . . . Pat Cucaro, the internationally famous artist, graciously signed autographs for fans between bites of New York Steak at Lew Lehr's Steak House, in San Francisco's Marina District.

Matterhorn Reservations Suggested

Swiss dishes are the house specialty at The Matterhorn European restaurant, where Chef Wilfried Blarer affords a handsome menu listing a variety of superb entrees. This delightful Burlingame restaurant is as picturesque as a Swiss chalet, and the aroma of food recalls the purpose of one's visit. Because of the limited amount of tables, reservations are suggested . . . Vince Licata buys the best seafood for preparation by his masterful chefs at Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant. Even if you have never cared much for fish, if you will try Rex Sole with butter sauce or Mahi Mahi, you will agree that here are specialties worthy of an epicure. There is an array of appetizers, salads, soups, and desserts (by all means try their cheese cake of several different flavors), plus many meat and fowl dishes, as well as Italian specialties and pastas. All portions are extremely generous, another welcome, old-fashioned feature of Vince's . . . Billy Valle, chef at The Red Cottage, Menlo Park, is a native of the Phillipine Islands. He arrived in the States in 1929, and has worked in his present postion for the past 18 years. Cannelloni is just one of the dishes that he takes great pride in serving.

TRAVELING GOLDDIGGERS — Susan Lund and Francie Mendenhall, former regulars on the Dean Martin Show and long-time members of the Golddiggers, were in San Francisco for promotion of their new syndicated television series. Judging from their smiles, you can be certain that General Manager Jim Pias was an entertaining host.

Time Now For Park Ave. Tours Vacation

Now is probably the best time of the year to take a Park Avenue Tours jaunt to Reno or Lake Tahoe. The new (and lower) winter rates are now in effect, but the snow and cold weather have yet to arrive. In fact, the weather has been just great in both "playlands." Park Avenue Tours (four Bay Area offices to serve you) has a variety of package trips available, via Greyhound or in your private auto. Regardless of your length of stay, you are certain to save money. Contact your nearest Park Avenue Tours location (an office on El Camino in San Mateo) for reservations and further information . . . "Louie Lobster" is alive and well at The Rodeway Inn, South San Francisco. He can be seen (along with several other family members) in the new lobster tank located just inside the Encore dining room. The tank, shipped from New England, is full of salt water and live lobsters. Diners may select any size lobster from the tank, and within twenty minutes find it cooked to perfection and served at their table . . . Frank and Fannie Torres are famed throughout the Bay Area for their superb South American specialties-of-the-house, which they serve Wednesdays through Sundays at Torres Beach restaurant, located in Montara, just south of Devil's Slide on Coast Highway One.

HAPPY FACE — You've seen those pixie faces with the big smile everywhere. Now Adrian Stickney, enterprising owner of Stickney restaurants, is putting Happy Faces on cakes, pies and cupcakes. They make a hit with adults and kids alike for parties. Get 'em at any Stickney restaurant and "Put on a Happy Face."

Finocchio's Famed The World Over For Years

Having heard of Finocchio's colorful revues featuring the world's greatest female impersonators, tourists from all over the world continue to flock to this famous nightclub throughout the year. The Finocchio show is on the agenda of many special tour groups, and Grey Lines buses pull up in front of the door every night to deposit visitors to San Francisco. More than two and one-half million people have come to Finocchio's via the bus tours in the past 20 years. Such popularity must be deserved . . . Margie Brandon, Clancy's organist, has a microphone on wheels which she speeds across the giant organbar to professional and amateur singers among the audience who like to "do their thing." Margie says, "We don't put gas in the little car that transports the mike because we don't want to pollute the air" . . . Delegates to the National Association of Food Chains convention, which opened Sunday in San Francisco, will be spending much of their off-duty time relaxing at Phil Lehr's Steakery. Phil has been busy arranging nightly cocktail and dinner parties for the conventioneers.

Ben Franklin Chef Creates Dishes

Tom Delano, executive chief at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, in downtown San Mateo, has been in the food industry most of his life. His culinary career dates back to the 1940's, when he started working for San Francisco's St. Francis Hotel. Through the years, Delano has developed many extraordinary recipes, most of which he uses for his Greenwillow dining room menu . . . Pizzas, whether they be small, medium, large, are of outstanding flavor when ordered from Romano's Italian restaurant, Rockaway Beach, Pacifica, Enrico Romano, owner and manager, has spent years perfecting the art of making pizzas, and he's unbeatable . . . The New Southern's Gold Room has been the scene of many happy occasions, but few can match an event held here one recent Sunday night. This was an eightieth birthday party for a Mrs. Lombardi, who was toasted by a host of family and friends during the joyous celebration . . . The Franciscan, at Fisherman's Wharf, is a restaurant with an excellent food reputation and offering a breathtaking view. Located next to Pier 43½, this thriving mecca for dining attracts tourists like a magnet. The warm hospitality of General Manager George Skaff and his son Richard, assistant manager, makes friends out of total strangers, and these "strangers" return to dine again and again.

Lucien's Father Restaurant Pioneer

A. Sabella's, located at Fisherman's Wharf, San Francisco, is under the most capable guidance of veteran restaurateur Lucien Sabella, whose father pioneered the ever popular dining spot in 1920. In addition to dining on sumptuous seafood dishes and Italian recipe specialties in the main dining room, the lounge is a snug haven for those desiring rare liqueurs and fine wines from both America and Europe. Elegant party facilities to accommodate groups, both large and small, are constantly in demand for meetings and social and civic functions. . . . Singalong time is every Friday and Saturday night in the friendly lounge of Bruno's in downtown San Mateo. Pianist Kathy Dee presides over the songfests, and leads patrons through scores of pop songs and old favorites. The fun begins around 9 p.m. and continues throughout the evening. . . . Gourmet tip: Chicken Sautee a la International Inn, which is served, naturally enough, at the International Inn restaurant in South San Francisco. Ask General Manager Doug Young or one of his able assistants to suggest appropriate wine to compliment this special dish which comes sauteed with mushrooms, sauterne wine and sour cream en casserole with rice.

Add Apples, Squash to Pot Roast

Many of American's traditional recipes emerged from colonial kitchens.

The dishes first prepared were plain, for colonial cooks lacked proper utensils and few seasonings were available. Fruits and vegetables, when seasonally abundant, were combined and cooked with meats for additional variety and flavor.

For a beef blade pot-roast patterned after early American cuisine, try Colonial Pot-Roast. The beef braises until tender with chunks of acorn squash and tart red apples, added near the end of the cooking period.

COLONIAL POT-ROAST

¼ cup flour
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
¼ cup water
2 medium-sized onions, cut in quarters
1 beef bouillon cube
1-third cup hat water
1 acrorn squash, cut in twelfths and pared
2 medium-sized tart apples, quartered and cored

Combine flour, salt and pepper. Dredge meat in seasoned flour. Reserve leftover flour. Brown meat in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add ¼ cup water and onions. Cover tightly and cook slowly 2½ hours. Dissolve bouillon cube in one-third cup hat water. Add bouillon, squash and apples to meat. Cover tightly and cook 30 to 35 minutes or until meat and vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables to heated platter. Thicken cooking liquid with reserved flour dissolved in water. 6 to 8 servings.

Salad Mold For Party Luncheon

Cottage Cheese Guava Mold is an intriguing combination of small curd creamed cottage cheese, guava nectar and stiffly beaten whipping cream developed by Foremost kitchens.

Preparation takes place before the luncheion arrive.

In fancy individual molds, Cottage Cheese Guava Molds look very handsome on each plate. Tiny tea sandwiches will complete the meal.

COTTAGE CHEESE GUAVA MOLD

1 envelope plus 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 (12 oz.) can guava nectar
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel
⅛ teaspoon salt
4 to 5 drops red food coloring
1 cup Foremost Small Curd Creamed Cottage Cheese
½ cup Foremost Whipping Cream

Soften gelatin in lemon juice. Heat guava nectar with sugar, lemon peel and salt to boiling. Add softened gelatin, stirring until dissolved. Add food coloring. Fold in cottage cheese, and cool until slightly thickened. Beat cream until stiff. Fold into cheese mixture. Turn into 4 (8 oz.) individual molds or a 1-quart mold and chill until firm. Unmold, and serve on crisp greens. Makes about 4 servings.

Almond Bar For Snacks

Youngsters will enjoy these rather sweet, bar-type cookies with ice cream for dessert or with milk for an after-school snack.

Almond Butter Bars

1 cup brown sugar (packed)
½ cup soft butter or margarine
1 whole egg plus 1 yolk
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup diced almonds, roasted
2½ cups sifted powdered sugar
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
1 to 2 tablespoons milk

Cream brown sugar with butter until light. Beat in egg and yolk, vanilla and almond extract. Sift flour with baking powder and salt into creamed mixture. Stir in almonds. Turn into lightly greased 9-inch square pan. Bake at 350 degrees 20 to 25 minutes. Cool. Blend remaining ingredients. Spread over cookie square. Cut into bars about 2¼ x 1¾ inches. Makes about 20 bars.

Use Grapes In Variety Of Desserts

Arriving in various shades of red, purple, and green, table grapes are now in good supply through November reports the United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Grapes require only simple, easy home care. First they should always be handled gently. Wash them immediately on arrival home, or just before use. Drain thoroughly before storing in the refrigerator in plastic bags and use within three to five days.

The original snack food, eaten out of hand since time began, grapes can be served in plain or fancy desserts. Try them simply topped with sour cream and brown sugar. Fresh Grape Chiffon Pudding is a more elegant dessert idea.

FRESH GRAPE CHIFFON PUDDING

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup grapes, seeded and crushed
½ cup sugar
Whipped cream and small grape clusters for garnish

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine egg yolks with sugar, salt, water and lemon juice. Cook over low heat or hot water until mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly. Stir in softened gelatin; chill until mixture is partially set. Beat egg whites until soft peaks are formed. Gradually add sugar and continue to beat until stiff. Fold in grapes and gelatin mixture. Spoon into dishes; chill. Serve topped with whipped cream and grapes. Makes 4 servings.

Old World Savor for Pork Chops

For an "old world" flavor, combine fresh Bartlett pears and pork chops in Viennese Pork and Pears.

On the lighter side, team fresh pears with apricot jam in Ham and Pears Apricotine.

Both pork and fresh pears are being spotlighted by the United States Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service as the Plentiful-Foods-to-Feature.

VIENNESE PORK AND PEARS

6 loin pork chops, cut 1-inch thick
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup golden raisins
½ cup hot water
3 tablespoons brown sugar, packed
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ground allspice
½ cup dark beer
3 medium-size fresh Bartlett pears
1 teaspoon cornstarch blended with 1 tablespoon cold water

Trim off a piece or two of fat from the chops and fry fat in a heavy frying pan. Add chops and brown slowly. Pour off excess fat and season with salt and pepper. Meanwhile, pour some boiling water over onions, and when cool enough to handle, peel them. (The hot water makes them easier to peel.) Rinse raisins and pour the ½ cup hot water over them; let stand about 5 minutes. Add onions and raisins with liquid to browned pork chops. Combine brown sugar, nutmeg, allspice and beer; pour over chops. Cover and cook over low heat until chops are tender, about 30 minutes.

Pare, halve and core pears; add to chops and cook for about 10 minutes, or until pears are hot. Mix in cornstarch blended with cold water and bring to a simmer.

Serve chops and pears with hot buttered noodles or spaetzle. Makes 6 servings.

HAM AND PEARS APRICOTINE

1½ pounds center-cut ham slice, cooked
Whole cloves
2 fresh Bartlett pears
1 cup apricot jam

Stud edge of ham with cloves; place in baking dish. Bake in a 375-degree oven about 20 minutes. Pare, halve and core pears; cut lengthwise into thick slices. Place on ham; spoon jam over pears and ham. Bake 10 minutes longer. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 6 servings.

RUMORS GALORE — There was much talk last week (and the early part of this week) concerning the possible resignation of two Jeff Elementary School District trustees — Beverly Forrester and Dorothy Adams. Let's hope the stories are only rumors. Reason we get for their wanting to chuck the whole thing is because of the ruling handed down by Superior Court Judge Mel Cohn. Seems his decision didn't settle anything as far as some folks are concerned. They could be right! But the people of Daly City elected all five trustees to do what they think is best, or at least TRY to do what they think is best for the kids. Hang in there, we say.

WHAT DID THAT strike prove? That some people stayed in and continued to teach the children that went to school the three "Rs.' That others could walk out, be fired and easily get their jobs back. And, lastly, that the California Teachers' Association (CTA), National Education Association (NEA) and American Federation of Teachers (AFT) are mighty powerful indeed.

THE CHILDREN? What about them? About the only thing we can say there is, they were "used" by whatever side found them advantageous.

FORGOT TO MENTION in our last column about the efforts of Troop 369, Boy Scouts of America. Credit to these Daly City Scouts for their work on behalf of the Friends of the D.C. Library during the recent book sale. Without their help, half the work would never have been done, we'll have you know.

WRITE YOUR STATE representative. Better yet, write Governor Ronnie. Our legislators intend to carve up San Mateo County like a piece of meat. Talk about gerrymandering. Each side of the political tent wants to chop us into four districts. As an example: Part of Daly City and Brisbane will end up as part of San Francisco. Only an expert equipped with an Ouija board can figure out what will happen to the rest of the county. I say: "San Mateo County — Love It or Leave It (Alone)."

ALL THAT TALK about putting a guard rail up along Skyline Boulevard at the intersection of Westridge Drive still is just that — talk. Mayor Bud Lycett, at a recent meeting of the D.C. Council, suggested he would find it mighty uncomfortable waiting for a bus in the available wood shelter erected in the area. The bus shelter has been zapped so many times it's a wonder there are any patrons left to ride the buses. During the first nine months of this year, there have been two injuries and nine property damage accidents in the area. Instead of wood, we humbly suggest the shelter be constructed with blueprints the Air Force follows in construction of Atlas Missile silos.

D.C. COUNCILMAN Louis Papan, who has riled some folks attending council meetings for "telling it like it is," has won praise from scores of others for the same reason. Papan's growing league of supporters say they actually LIKE to hear someone dig for answers until satisfied the well is dry.

If this sounds like a plug for Papan, it is! At a recent meeting on housing for seniors in the city, the two-year veteran of the council dug until he was satisfied with the answers

And now he wants to use this knowledge and experience as a subject lesson in dealing with other low income and senior housing in the city.

SAD TO BEHOLD THE the sight of only 18 persons attending funeral services for "Mr. Daly City." This man we refer to did more for his county, his fellow men, than most. It was he who brought new innovations into city government and fought for civil employes. He also was a member of many civic organizations throughout the Bay Area and worked with these groups to better life for many. The years he served Daly City were eventful. Arthur Bodien was a familiar face at many functions

Arthur Bodien was a familiar voice whenever someone had to speak out for the working man. And yet when this familiar person was laid to rest less than two dozen friends attended the service.

That the saying "How soon they forget" came true in this instance is more than a pity — it's a downright shame. One thing is for certain, Arthur Bodien's accomplishments will stay on as a reminder of this hardworking man.

Priorities in Burial of the Dead

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Mrs. Bridgie Elizabeth Callan, wife of former San Mateo County Supervisor Thomas J. Callan, died October 2 in Daly City.

She was among the first to be buried at Holy Cross Catholic Cemetery in Colma Thursday — one day after the four-month-long strike ot cemetery workers ended.

Arthur J. Bodien, veteran civic leader and former Daly City councilman, died less than a week before. He still awaited burial at Holy Cross late last week when there were an estimated 1,000 dead awaiting burial at Holy Cross. The total number of dead — caskets and cremation containers — exceeds 1,800.

These dead have been backlogged and stored in mortuary basements and rented garages during the strike which started on June 3 and ended in the predawn hours of Tuesday, October 5.

Arrangements have been made between mortuaries and cemeteries to hold "normal" funeral proceedings for those who have died since the strike ended.

During the strike the eleven cemeteries involved issued priority numbers to mortuaries setting up a schedule for interment of caskets.

A cemetery spokesman at Olivet said those remains that were cremated pose no problem. The containers will be delivered by funeral directors to designated cemeteries and services will be coordinated with bereaved families.

And while Catholic practice does not encourage cremation of remains, the church has allowed exceptions during the strike.

W. C. Lasswell & Company, one of the major county mortuaries, has had four cremations involving Catholics who own plots at Holy Cross and will be buried there.

The cremations were carried out at either Skylawn Cemetery or at crematoriums in the East Bay during the strike, it was learned.

While funeral directors and cemetery officials do not expect large attendance of mourners at placement ceremonies for those cremated, it was predicted by several mortuaries that some 95 per cent will attend graveside casket ceremonies.

In most cases the mortuary will contact survivors who will meet at the cemetery. There will be no formal funeral procession from mortuaries to cemeteries.

However, if the bereaved desire they may follow the hearse from the mortuary to cemetery, Edward Lycett of Lasswell's said.

There were many exceptions made during the strike.

Special rulings were made to allow Orthodox Jews to embalm their dad.

Under normal circumstances Orthodox Jews are interred within 24 nours, without embalming.

The mortuaries and cemeteries are, along with supporting services such as monument makers, working overtime to get things back to normal.

Olivet Cemetery estimates it will be able to dispose of the backlog within three to four weeks.

A spokesman at Olivet noted "the death rate is down" this month in the Bay Area.

This low death rate will allow many cemeteries to catch up with the backlog of burials.

An Olivet spokesman said they expect to bury between 12 and 14 a day until they are able to return to normal operations.

At Holy Cross it will take "a while to get things going," an official noted.

The first few days following the record-long strike workers were busily engaged in preparing gravesites and trimming the once-plush lawns.

Workers themselves estimate it will take more than a year to get the grounds back in shape.

In 1956 workers walked out for three weeks. The situation was handled about the same as it is today.

Some persons do not want to go through the mental anguish of a formal funeral service.

They have left final details up to mortuaries and will not attend burial services, one funeral director said.

Elio Fontana, owner of V. Fontana & Sons Monuments in Colma, said his employes are now working overtime to catch up on their workload of more than 200 monuments.

Next week the company will erect a 20-ton tomb that has awaited construction since the strike got underway.

In recent weeks, Fontana had to temporarily lay off workers because of the lull in work. Now they are busier than ever, Fontana said.

THE MARQUEE

Jesus Christ turns people on. Unfortunately I doubt if it is his religious image. For those liberated people who find relevance in the current craze to shout, yell, and scream his name they have chosen an overly passionate and expensive method to show their devotion.

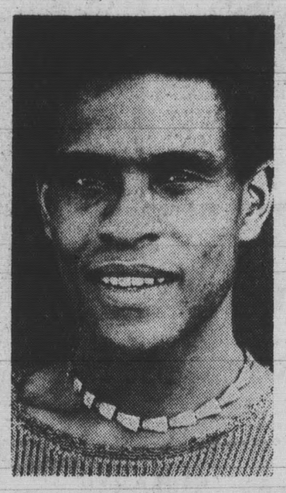
The rock opera "Jesus Christ, Superstar" that attracted more than 20,000 persons to two performances of the concert last weekend at the Oakland Coliseum Arena has a few good songs that were well sung by an enthusiastic and professionally polished company. But it still doesn't have the poetic, artistic or emotional impact of a major work, nor does it touch the joy and noble spirit of the rock-dance-drama "Tommy."

And now we're in for a parting of the waters that will lay bare such unsanctified commercialization of the good man's name as "Black Jesus" (a movie); "The Rebel Jesus" (a film featuring Erica "Vixen" Gavin), a twin-LP Biblical album "Truth of Truth," a rock opera based on 26 segments of the Bible and Wolper's film "The Crucifixation" slated for Israel production. There is another Christ-man theme show, "Godspell" we haven't seen here yet. But wait . . .

The "Superstar" double record album that has already sold three million copies, has several musically and lyrically interesting songs. Perhaps if a version came round that put the Biblical characters in dramatic context, it would be easier to take, say as a pageant or play.

But despite considerable "relating" between the various performers on stage, to the extent of such movement as kneeling, jumping in the air and wriggling like a spaced-out junkie, the "authorized" performance has a limited interest.

The story revolves around Judas, effectively sung by Carl Anderson, a Black baritone, who is torn between love and jealousy.



Carl Anderson appears as Judas Iscariot.

Our Viewpoint:

No More Cemetery Strikes!

The ending of the cemetery strike in San Mateo County marks the ending of a period of disgrace that will not be soon forgotten.

Eighteen hundred bodies had been left unburied, some of them for as much as four full months, and it will require an as yet undetermined time before all of them can be interred with respectful committal services. There will be delays occasioned by the normal rate of deaths and funeral services.

The long duration of the cemetery strike caused prolonged and unnecessary grief in the bereaved and already grieving families of the dead. By all modern standards of civilization this strike was a retrogression into barbarism. The custom of honorable interment of the dead is one of the fundamental rights of the people and interference with it, on whatever grounds, is an offense against humanity.

Even those who die on the field of battle receive the prompt reverence, concern and attention to their obsequies that were denied to these 1800 dead friends and neighbors.

This must never be allowed to happen again.

If it takes new laws to assure that our dead will go, unhindered, to their last resting place — then those laws must be enacted. The cruelty to the living survivors, inflicted by this strike, cannot be tolerated.

Nor is this all. This callous and inhuman offense was also inflicted upon the mourners of all who have died and were buried or entombed in the cemeteries concerned. Most of them held the belief that they had provided for the perpetual care of the graves of their loved ones.

They were defrauded by a strike which allowed dedicated and consecrated burial grounds to become a jungle of weeds, dead and dying shrubs and plants, and acres and acres of unmowed, untrimmed, and ruined lawns. An atomic disaster would have caused little more damage.

If it takes new laws to prevent such neglect, then these laws, too, should be enacted.

We repeat, this must never be allowed to happen again.

Local Government Form Is Changing

California is gradually developing a new form of local government. It rises from the obsolescence of municipal boundaries, the growth of strip cities and the need for solution on an area wide basis of many of our most pressing problems.

Pressures over regional government are intense. Many long for the ways of the past and oppose regionality on any basis. Others envision area-wide problems such as pollution, planning, transit and shoreline control as so imposing that almost any means of dealing with them will be accepted. Add to this the people who want a share of the new powers of such entities, and you have the making of a government fiasco.

Unfortunately, as patterns of regional governments are established, they will be difficult to change and the form of such bodies will tend to be perpetuated. Attention, therefore, should be given not only to the problems themselves but also to the means employed in solution.

Three weeks ago, this column considered the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency and the California Supreme Court case sustaining its constitutionality (People ex rel Younger vs County of El Dorado). In the article the dangers of removing government from the people were discussed at some length. Passing reference was made to a proposal now before the Legislature to establish a Conservation and Development Agency of the Bay Area (AB 1057).

If this bill becomes law it would establish the prototype of such agencies and would, in all likelihood, set the pattern for general purpose regional government in California. The structure provided in this proposal should, therefore, be carefully considered by those devoted to sound and representative government.

The bill is comprehensive, and can best be likened to a constitution or charter. Its stated purposes are laudable, but the kind of government created, unfortunattely, is not.

The text covers more than 50 pages, and any technical discussion of its provisions is impossible in the span of this article. Nonetheless, some of the major problems presented by this unique legislation should be mentioned.

1) The Agency Board is to consist of 83 members. Size alone will prevent this body from working effectively, and power must reside elsewhere.

2) Of the 83 trustees, only 40 are to be elected. 40 are to be selected from among the mayors, councilmen and supervisors of the Bay Area and three are to be appointed by other regional agencies. A majority of the membership, therefore, will have no direct responsibility to the voting public.

3) Provision of the three members to be designated by other agencies establishes an extraordinary precedent. These members will be twice removed from the people, and the pyramiding of memberships can best be compared to the practice of interlocking directorates so common to business at the turn of the last century.

4) Proposed compensation schedules make it plain that this will be a part time board and that trustees will not be able to devote a great deal of time to agency business.

5) Too numerous to debate, too involved in other things to give necessary attention, and, therefore too uninformed to act wisely, such a board would have to delegate responsibility. The likely beneficiary of such delegation will be the agency administrative officer.

Constitutions customarily protect against a professional elite.

Thus, for example, civilian control of the military is emphasized in our Federal Constitution. But here, the legislative details concerning administrative staff express the tremendous authority that must be vested in the appointees of this cumbersome governing body. The agency administrative officer and other designated officials would be full time employees, competing for power with part time trustees whose interests would be widely divergent. Little question but that the staff of this organization would be one of the strongest known to American government.

6) The powers given this agency are at once vague and broad. Relationships with existing governmental entities are not clearly defined and the ensuing struggle for power could take years to resolve. The bill provides the agency with considerable competitive strength, but, in failing to precisely define and limit the extent of powers granted, presents it with a hunting license for expanded authority.

7) The agency is a governmental conglomerate. It may adopt ordinances and resolutions. It may then pass its own rules and regulations and interpret and enforce its own laws. It may issue cease and desist orders and must be recognized as a single body simultaneously exercising legislative, administrative and judicial type functions.

So considered, AB 1057 constitutes a poor way of going about a very good thing. It seems that the concept of a Bay Area wide entity able to deal with such important matters as planning and pollution is essential. Unfortunately, the fathers of this proposal have paie insufficient attention to the form of government they propose. It is not representative, its powers are neigher separated nor devided and its authority is not limited.

That the present bi serious deficiencies is reg ble indeed. These largely result from the debilitating effects of opposition and the necessities of compromise. Unfortunately, the form which such new and useful government takes is too important to ignore.

Letters to the Editor

The Teachers' Strike

Editor, The Post

In regard to the CTA strike in Daly City, I would like to raise my voice in the name of the many hundreds of parents who are in agreement with the school board and who have heretofore not been heard. As is usually the case, the dissenters make news, but the silent majority is forgotten.

There are many of us parents in the district who believe that teachers, especially teachers of young children, who have a major part in formulating our children's opinions and views of the world, have no business on unlawful picket lines, setting willful disregard for the law as an example to impressionable youngsters.

To make matters even worse, the Reverend Raymond Howard's group, under the heading of "Concerned Citizens," is now calling for the illegal boycott of schools. What for? To further teach our children that all they have to do when things do not go their way is to take the law into their own hands and disobey the rules?

These same people who are now advocating keeping their children home unlawfully because they (the parents do not agree with the decisions of the duly elected school board, will wonder when in 10 years time those children will have grown into young adults with complete disregard for authority—Parental and governmental.

Concerned Citizens? Concerned with what?

In closing let me add that, (contrary to most of the news stories we have been reading) most schools are functioning very well. In the school that my children attend, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the attendance is almost normal, the children are learning and the substitutes are excellent.

If a parent chooses to keep his child home, the child will be the only one hurt!

MRS. JEFFREY GREEN,
Daly City.

How Much is This Worth?

"How much is all this worth?" Richard L. Evans asks during his Spoken Word program of July 4, 1971. In reply he gave Americans a piece that has been published and is being distributed by his readers.

"How much is it worth to live where one wishes? How much is it worth to have the right to live with loved ones? to listen to the laughter of children? to walk home and find loved faces unafraid? How much is it worth to own personal property? to have personal privacy? to reserve human dignity? How much is it worth to have an education offered everyone? How much is it worth to express freely an opinion, to move freely from place to place with an openness of life, with peace of mind and quiet conviction and enjoyment of the great and good earth that God has given?"

SAMUEL CHANDLER

"Despite some encroachments on freedom, and the unwise relinquishment of some rights, still blessed beyond belief, still precious beyond price is the freedom our forebears paid for — the freedom which is godgiven, but yet has to be earned, over and over again."

AGAIN HE ASKED, "How much is all this worth? It must be worth the willingness to work," he replies, "to serve, to live with loyality and allegiance, with respect for self, for others, for life, for law, for loved ones, with cleanliness and honorable conduct."

Continuing, Evans said, "Thank God for liberty and for the constitution of our country. No nation ever had its equal in making possible the full, free living of life. And we who are living on the short side of life are earnestly anxious that you who have longer yet to live may know as Andrew Jackson said, 'No free government can stand without virtue in the people, and a lofty spirit of patriotism.' "

Quoting Charles Summer, Evans called to his fellow Americans, " 'Oh, let us turn our thoughts to the character of our country, so that we the people and our children and their children may thankfully say, Thank God my life was been spent in a land of liberty.' "

RICHARD L. EVANS is the voice of the Mormon Tabernacle. His Spoken Word is part of that body's Sunday morning program over the Columbia Broadcasting System. Many of his pieces have been printed in a publication called the New Era. Many have been published in compilations.

Other material by Richard L. Evans has appeared in Look Magazine and in such reference books as the Encyclopedia Britannica.

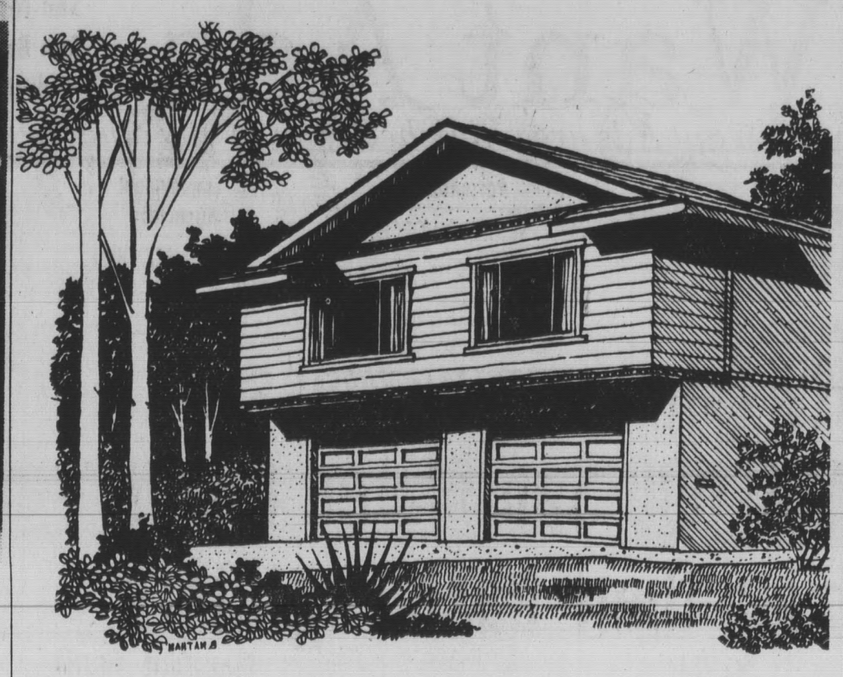
A HIGHLIGHT of the recent Skyline Elementary School P-TA program was a skit dramatizing P-TA membership, staged by Mrs. Steven Buckley, Robert D'Amico and Mrs. Walter Jacobsen. The school is in the Serramonte tract and in the South San Francisco Unified School District. (Post Photo)



SUNSTREAM HOMES in Serramonte (Daly City) are building two new models — the Somerset and Skycrest, both three-bedroom, two-bath homes. Featured is plenty of expandable areas in which to add a rumpus room, hobby center, or, possibly, extra bedrooms. Shopping, schools, churches, playgrounds and public transportation are nearby, the developers pointed out in announcing construction of the new models.

AMT Sets Staging of New Show

The American Musical Theatre and Academy, having presented a Columbus Day pageant in San Francisco last weekend, will present the musical variety show, "Make Mine Broadway," at the Encore Theater in Burlingame, October 17, at 2 p.m.

This live stage show of song and dance, which covers over 50 years of Broadway show music, was seen at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco last Saturday night and made its debut at the San Mateo County Fair in August.

It includes hit tunes from such great shows as "The Student Prince," "No, No Nanette," "Showboat," "My Fair Lady," "Little Abner," "Sound of Music," "Oklahoma," "Fiddler on the Roof," and a special preview of songs from the November production of "Camelot," to be presented in San Bruno.

The New 'Volunteer Army's' Advantages

By FRANK LaPIERRE

With non-commissioned officers like Staff Sgt. Noble Fields recruiting for the new "Modern Volunteer Army" it could be only a matter of months before the draft is ended.

Sgt. Fields is a women Army Corps (WAC) recruiter in the North San Mateo County area. She takes her work seriously.

She emphasizes that girls joining the "new Army" have far more privileges than those in days of old.

According to a list distributed by the MVA many changes have been made to make recruits feel more comfortable, including, "no more skinned haircuts."

Sgt. Fields quickly explained during a recent interview that WAC recruits never had to get this type of cut. Rather "skinheads" were administered to men only.

Nowadays, GI's (men and women) don't have any passes, KP, unnecessary work details, no need to sign in and out of the barracks, new thicker mattresses on beds, plus a base full of other attractive benefits.

All these benefits are designed to attract volunteers to the ranks of this new Army, Sgt. Fields said.

"And there is plenty of time off to pursue hobbies," the stunning 5-ft-9 (36-25-36) native of Fresno explained.

For the past 17 years the sergeant has gone where the Army ordered — to Europe, throughout the United States, Far East and Hawaii.

"I've loved every minute of it," she said.

The "sarg," who includes swimming as a major hobby, sang and dancel her way around the world with the All-Army Entertainment Group which stages shows for GIs overseas.

She's been a model for Christians' Kreations in Oakland and was in the movie "Kona Coast," starring Richard Boone, during her tour of duty in Hawaii.

"I've had a ball in the Army," Noble said. "Where else could I have seen this much of the world free."

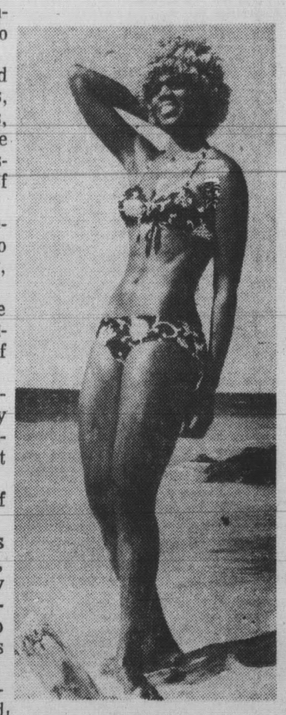
Wherever she goes she "sells" the U.S. Army story.

"A girl can do many things while in the service of her country. She can attend schools of her choice. For instance I am now studying for radio and television announcing. She can pursue her hobbies. And even get an off-duty job as long as it doesn't intefere with her Army duties," Sgt. Fields pointed out.

Since 1969 she has been in the recruiting business.

Her fellow recruiters in San Mateo County figure that with assignment of Sgt. Fields to the area more and more young men will be attracted to the Army — and perhaps a few young women also.

SGT. NOBLE FIELDS



Security Pacific Now Open in D.C.

Security Pacific National Bank's Serramonte Plaza Branch marks the bank's first location in Daly City. The branch opened for business October 4.

The 5,400 square-foot contemporary structure, designed with exterior stoneface masonry panels interspersed with bronze glass openings, will be accented by a colonade entrance to the branch, reported Palo Alto architect James Foug and Associates.

Custom designed lighting combined with the extensive use of glass will project a feeling of openness and light throughout the interior, while the exterior design of the building blends architecturally with the shopping center.

Branch manager John Wilhelm said, "We came to this community with a promise to participate, and believe that our new Serramonte Plaza Branch will provide the link between a fine community and a great banking institution."

Serramonte Plaza Branch — constructed by Daly and Trudell, a Palo Alto based contracting firm — offers regular banking services, including a two-lane, drive-up teller window, night depository, and safe deposit accommodations. Parking facilities will be provided adjacent to the branch.

High Speed Chase On Bayshore Fwy.

A 10-year-old car hitting speeds up to 109 miles an hour was chased for 35 miles north on Bayshore Freeway Monday morning by a fleet of police cars.

From San Mateo to Brisbane, a San Mateo policeman in a patrol car was out in front trying to stop the car, but every time he slowed down the driver attempted to bump him off the freeway.

The driver finally cracked up at the Candlestick cutoff north of Brisbane and got out with only a bump on the head.

Taken to Stanford Medical Center for treatment and then booked at the Santa Clara County Jail on charges of drunk driving, assault and battery and assault with a deadly weapon was Ronald P. Florida, 21, of San Jose, an employe of the Geodetic Survey in Menlo Park. The assault charges stemmed from Florida's effort to run pursuing police cars off the road.

At the end of the chase an estimated 10 patrol cars surrounded Florida's damaged car, a 1961 Chevrolet. Officers gave credit for his apprehension to San Mateo Patrolman Douglas Brown, 22, who got in front of Florida's auto at Kehoe Avenue and finally managed to force him out of control north of Brisbane. Florida's car swerved to the right, hit a fence, ricocheted across four lanes of traffic and smashed into the center divider rail.

Santa Clara County Highway Patrolmen Edward Cherry and Frank Pierson reported they were parked on the shoulder of the Bayshore freeway near Charleston Avenue in Mountain View writing reports about 3 a.m. when Florida's car passed at high speed.

When they were in the vicinity of Marsh Road in Menlo Park the two officers managed to pull alongside the fleeing vehicle, but the driver tried to run them off the road, they said.

In the vicinity of Redwood City, two sheriff's patrol cars, and in Belmont another police car took up the pursuit.

During the chase, Cherry and Pierson reported Florida almost lost control six times and "fishtailed" down the roadway.

At Kehoe Avenue, three San Mateo police cars were waiting, and Brown managed to get in front of Florida. Everythime he would attempt to slow him down, however, the officers said Florida would try to ram the rear of the police car.

Two Burlingame police cars then joined the pursuit, and at Millbrae Avenue another CHP car took it up.

Cherry and Pierson reported San Mateo police set up two barricades, but Florida managed to get through. At one, they said, he "spun out," and fearing an accident they slowed their patrol car.

Both CHP officers said they never saw such driving as Brown's as he evaded Florida's car when Florida would attempt to crash into him.

"There must have been a guardian angle on my shoulder," Brown said.

Brown finally forced Florida out of control at the Sierra Point cutoff. The officers said Florida attempted to battle them when they pulled him out of his damaged car.

Millbrae School Meet

The parents of students attending Taylor Intermediate School will have the opportunity to "Go Back to School" on Wednesday evening, at 7:30 p.m. After a brief greeting in the auditorium by the P-TA presidents, Dr. and Mrs. Gerald Poppers and the school principal, R. Dean Edwards, the parents will be dismissed to their child's homeroom class where they will receive the student's daily schedule. By following this schedule, they will meet with each of their child's teachers and become acquainted with the curriculum for the school year.
